DEATH FOR STRIKER AND STRIKE BREAKER

Wild Scenes Are Witnessed in the Streets of Chicago. Union and Non-Union Men Battle Before the Police.

CHICAGO, May 1.—A report is current that Mayor Dunne is considering the possibility of interfering in the strike and compelling some sort of a settlement on the ground that the welfare of the people demands a settlement.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Wholesale importation of non-union men from St. Louis and the arrival of Strike Breaker Farley from New York gave a new turn to the teamsters' strike here. Immediately upon his arrival Farley held a conference with representatives of the employers. Plans for putting him in full charge of all "strike breakers" are said to have been decided upon. Farley managed the non-union men in the Subway strike. Non-union men in forces said to be almost unprecedented are on their way to Chicago. It was reported a special train bearing 475 men left St. Louis early today and that another train with 500 men was being prepared. The work of mobilizing the men in St. Louis was conducted in secrecy. Half of the men were taken from southern Illinois and Kentucky. Many of them are negroes.

GRANTED INCREASE.

One hundred strike breakers, employed by the American Express Company, the Pacific Northern Pacific and National companies, went on strike today to enforce a demand of $1 a day for drivers and $4 a day for conductors and helpers, an allowance of fifty cents for luncheon and extra pay for overtime. The increase was granted and the men returned to work.

Tumultuous scenes were witnessed today at Jackson boulevard and Franklin street, near the headquarters of the Employers' Teaming Company, the organization formed to supply the striking teamsters.

FIRE A SHOT.

John Williams, a colored non-unionist driver, was sitting on one of the wagons of the employers' company waiting for caravans to be formed. A crowd of several hundred persons had gathered and were jeering Williams and other non-unionists. Suddenly a bottle, thrown from a window, struck Williams on the head. The negro drew a revolver and fired toward the window. The action of the colored man angered the crowd and a concerted rush was made toward him. Williams jumped from his wagon and fled down the street. The mob soon caught him and he was being savagely beaten when the police rescued him. Williams was arrested.

DEATH LIST.

The wholesale grocery, coffee, tea and spice houses were more or less completely tied up today by the spreading of the teamsters' strike. The death list in the teamsters' strike is increasing. Police Sergeant Richard Cummings, who was injured while in charge of a squadron guarding a number of wagons on the way to strike-bound business houses, died today. During one of the many riots piling out of the strike he was knocked under the feet of horses attached to a cart and was crushed beneath the vehicle's wheels. John Devesa, a driver of the cart, was arrested and is being held under heavy bonds.

Colored non-union men in charge of trucks of the Employers' Teaming Company were attacked at Clinton and Van Buren streets by a crowd of strike sympathizers. Bricks, sticks and other missiles were thrown at the teamsters. The police dispersed the crowd and arrested one of the assailants of the non-union teamsters.

SMALL PACKAGES.

The Federal Government is helping the department stores deliver small parcels in a way that is beyond the interference of the teamsters. Thousands of small packages are being delivered by mail through the street railway postal cars. Col. Leroy

PLEADS TO FREE WOMAN

Last Appeal to the Jury on Behalf of Nan Patterson.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Nan Patterson probably will know her fate within forty-eight hours. Today there remained only the closing scenes in the trial to be enacted. That there would be no defense already had been announced before the court convened today. Her counsel were satisfied that the State had failed signally in its effort to prove that the former show girl murdered Caesar Young, her lover, they said, and were content to stand or fall on what evidence had been submitted. The defendant agreed fully with her attorneys and expressed the firmest faith that her troubles were rapidly nearing an end.

HOPES TO GO HOME

"I feel that I have spent my last Sunday in the Tombs," she said today, while making ready to go to court. "Tomorrow I will go home."

When the trial was resumed today Mr. Levy formally announced that the defense would rest on the State's case, and then began his closing argument for the prisoner.

WARNED THE JURY

Mr. Levy warned the jury that circumstantial evidence must be considered with the greatest care, as any judgment they might make could not restore the life that had been taken.

"A circumstantial case carries with it the necessity on the part of the prosecution to live up to the very letter of the law. What I have to fear is that you will be fascinated by the blandishments of my opponent, who may seek to blind you to the evidence. He has the right to avail himself of any tactics, but if I were District Attorney, I would not use the mighty power of my position to resort to unfair methods to send any girl to her death. He should have been fair with this defenseless girl, and he should also have been fair with you who lean on him for guidance and not for misguidance."

THE PAWN TICKETS

"I must call your attention to the pawn tickets by which Mr. Rand sought to delude that they were dated June 3, when as a matter of fact they bore date of October 1. I had them put in evidence so as to show you an object lesson the unfair tactics resorted to by the prosecutor. He had also told you about the $50,000 which he says was lavished by Young on the defendant, when he knew the case was barren of evidence of any money excepting $800."

NO MOTIVE.

Mr. Levy declared that the prosecution had failed to prove that J. Morgan Smith bought the pistol and also had failed to prove a motive for the deed.

SHE WAS MISTRESS

Mr. Levy argued that Nan Patterson was a victim of her own weakness and the blandishments of Caesar Young. It was admitted that she was the mistress of Young, he said, but before that she had been true to her husband and she was as loyal to Young as if she had truly been his wife. Young was the master, she the weakling. He would have the jury not accept the letter written to Leslie Coggins, showing that she was disloyal to Young.

The latter was not dated, and the only way to fix the time it was written was to go back to when Miss Patterson was in a California hospital. That, he said, was two and a half years ago, before Caesar Young came into her life.

It had been shown by the prosecution, he said, that Young saw the Coggins letter last May, but there were at least three letters in the case which were written by Young to Miss Patterson after that time. He asked the jury to read them, and to determine whether they were written to the woman whom the writer wished to get away from.

THE LETTERS

"These letters were signed 'All love,' he said, and in them we have a voice from the dead, indicating that this married man was pursuing this girl instead of she pursuing him."

Mr. Levy then took up the witnesses,

DEATH IS SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

DANIEL O'LEARY, whose body was found in the bay and whose death may have been the result of foul play. Deceased was employed at the West Oakland Railroad Yards.

Body of Daniel O'Leary Found in Bay—Was He Victim of Foul Play?

On Sunday, April 23, Daniel O'Leary and Daniel Horgan, two young men employed in the Southern Pacific yards at West Oakland, started to San Francisco for a good time. The afternoon was spent at Golden Gate Park, and in the evening they made the rounds down town.

Both had some $15 or $20 in their pockets and Horgan declares they must have put away quite a little liquor, as he does not know how he got home, but merely knows he got there.

O'Leary was not seen from Sunday evening until yesterday, when his body was picked up off section 2 of the seawall and later taken to the San Francisco Morgue.

The remains had evidently been in the water for a week.

The body was identified by a prayer book which was found in his pocket with his name written on a fly leaf. Dates show that it was given him when he left Ireland in April, 1903, when he came to this country to make his fortune.

The other articles found on him were a watch, chain and $2.50 in silver, also a memorandum book containing a number of addresses, one of which was that of Miss Judith Moriarty, 212 Broadway, this city.

PUZZLES POLICE.

The only other article found on him was one which causes some speculation, it being a ferry ticket, punched only by the train gateman, which under ordinary circumstances would have been surrendered at the mole before boarding the ferry-boat.

HORGAN'S STORY.

Horgan, when interviewed at his home at 1238 Short street, explained this by saying that O'Leary had undoubtedly bought two tickets when they started to San Francisco and had inadvertently given them both to the gateman, thus getting both of them punched.

He is so positive in his statement that he and O'Leary spent the afternoon and evening together that the police are inclined to discredit the theory that O'Leary had not gone to San Francisco, but had met with foul play on this side of the bay.

Horgan states that after entering a saloon in San Francisco his mind was a blank until he found himself alighting from the train at West Oakland the following morning, minus his money. He is of the opinion that both he and O'Leary were drugged and robbed, and that O'Leary succumbed to the effects of the drug, and that to hide the crime his body was thrown into the bay.

His statement was as follows:

MANY DRINKS.

"O'Leary and myself went to San Francisco at about 1 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. We went to Golden Gate Park, where we stayed for some hours. Then we went down town. We drank considerably. At about 12 o'clock I remember that we were in Moriarty's saloon, at Third and Minna streets. We left there, both of us somewhat under the influence of liquor, and went to another saloon a short distance away. I do not remember, however, what saloon this was, or just where it is located."

NO MEMORY.

"After that I do not remember anything until Monday morning about 7 o'clock, when I found myself getting off the train in West Oakland. How got there, or where I was in the meantime, I cannot say. I suppose that I walked in a daze to the ferry, and in the same condition got aboard of the boat. We had about $15 or $20 apiece, I think, when we separated. All I had in the morning was a little change, about 15 or 20 cents. I think that O'Leary and myself were drugged in the saloon and robbed by some one who had seen that we had money."

NO RELATIVES.

O'Leary, as far as is known, had no relatives in this city, and had been employed by the Southern Pacific for about a year as a freight handler. He had boarded in several lodging houses near the yards and had known Horgan for about six months. He had quite a number of friends, who speak very well of him, saying that he was not quarrelsome nor inclined to drink to excess. He was about 22 years of age.

It was made a few days before the day set for the hanging of Mrs. Edwards and Greason last February and resulted in their reprieve.

LOSS OF $100,000 RESULTS FROM FIRE

TROOPS SLAY WORKMEN

Czar's Soldiers Shoot Down the Marching Sons of Toil and Stop Parade.

WARSAW, Russian Poland, May 1.—Thirty-one persons were killed and many were wounded in a conflict here this afternoon between troops and workmen at the corner of Zelazna and Jeroshinski streets.

A procession of workmen carrying flags was stopped by cavalry and infantry. The cavalry charged and the infantry fired a volley with the result already cabled.

Fifteen of the wounded were removed to the hospital, but many others were taken to their homes.

TWENTY MORE KILLED

WARSAW, Russian Poland, May 1, 7:06 p. m.—Another collision between soldiers and workmen is reported to have taken place at the corner of Zlote and Sosnowa streets. A military patrol fired on a crowd and killed or wounded twenty persons.

SMALL RIOT

ST. PETERSBURG, May 1, 1:50 p. m.—The only disorder in Poland outside of the shooting at Warsaw, reported up to this hour, is a small riot at Lodz, where a priest was stoned, leading to a scuffle between the crowd and the police in which four men were shot.

FIFTEEN MEN ARE ENTOMBED; ALL HAVE PROBABLY PERISHED

WILBURTON, O. T., May 1.—It developed today that fifteen men were entombed in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas coal mine No. 15, four miles west of here, by the explosion yesterday.

A rescuing party went into the mine today in an endeavor to reach the men, but up to noon had not been successful.

It is believed that all were asphyxiated.

Enter Washington Street Store SAFE ROBBERS FOILED; MISS $600

Safe crackers last night made a daring attempt to blow open the safe of Carroll & Norris, haberdashers at 1066 Washington street, in the Bacon block, in which there was $600 deposited.

The effort failed, principally because the bit which was used to bore through the outer door of the safe broke off, necessitating the drilling of another hole if the safe was to be opened.

There is every reason to believe that Special Policeman Goodwin caught the operators in the act and that his presence had the effect of frightening them away.

He tried the door about 12 o'clock and found it was open.

Instead of going in and making an investigation, he telephoned Paul T. Carroll, one of the proprietors, and sent a hack for him.

While he was telephoning it is assumed that the safe blowers made their escape.

Had the door been blown open the robbers would have secured all of the receipts of Saturday night and about $400 which had been left with Mr. Carroll by a friend.

The hole drilled was to the left of the combination dial. The bit which was used broke off, rendering it impossible for the combination to be turned.

The constant drilling had the effect of ruining all of the numbers on the dial.

The robbers had made a thorough search through the drawers of the desk in the manager's office for the combination, but were unsuccessful.

The office itself is especially adapted for the work which the safe blowers contemplated.

It is shut off from view from the street and the robbers could work there for hours without arousing suspicion.

There is a large quantity of oil scattered about the floor of the office, indicating the use of a dark lantern.

Chief of Police Hodgkins believes that the safe crackers who have been operating in San Francisco came over to Oakland for a night's work. The job had the appearance of being a bungling one, and it is possible that it was the work of amateurs and not of professionals.

This morning Mr. Carroll had the following to say:

"It is good that the matter is no worse. Nothing in the store was disturbed except the combination dial. This can be repaired at a small expense."

"The first that I knew of the attempted robbery was early this morning when Special Policeman Goodwin

WHY LENA KOEHL KILLED HER HUSBAND

Declared That He Fired Upon Her and That She Shot Him in Self-Defense,

The trial of Lena Koehl for the murder of her husband was continued before Judge Greene and a jury this morning, and the first witness called was Mrs. Minnie Driess, a next-door neighbor, into whose home Mrs. Koehl ran after the shooting. H. Driess, the husband, was out in the yard at work on the morning of February 12. Mrs. Driess stated that the first she knew of the affair was when she heard her husband calling her and telling her to run. She did not understand him, and when she went downstairs they found Mrs. Koehl in their front room with a pistol in her hand. She said that she had shot her husband, but that she had to do it in self-defense.

Herman Driess said that it being Sunday morning he was out in the garden about 9 o'clock and that he heard several pistol shots, and that shortly afterwards he saw Mrs. Koehl run from her back door with a pistol in her hand. She went to the fence dividing their places, and slipping a loose board aside she went through and ran up their back steps and went into their house. Thinking that she was intending to do his wife some harm he called out to her and told her to run, but she did not understand him. After they found out what the matter was they called some neighbors and finally summoned a policeman. Then they all went into this house together and found Edward Koehl dead. He was lying partly in a closet, with his feet and legs extending out of the door.

Captain A. Wilson was called and testified to the fact that he was about to go out to the scene of the shooting, when just as he was leaving the police station he met Mrs. Koehl, who gave herself up to him. She had a Colt's pistol. Captain Wilson identified the one offered as an exhibit as the pistol he took from her at that time.

HER STATEMENT.
Detective Kote was then called to the stand and told of a conversation he had with the defendant, in which she told him of how the shooting occurred. She began by telling him that her husband had left her on the Friday night preceding the shooting at which time he seemed angry, and then, continuing, Kote said: "She told me that she was sitting around Friday night with his head in his hands and that when she asked him what was the matter he said that he had a good mind to kill her and himself. After a little while he sat down and wrote a letter and went out with it. She thought that he went to mail it, but he did not come back, and getting afraid, she went to the house of Charles Kruger, where she stayed all night. The next day she went home, but returned Sunday morning early and found a fire and was eating some breakfast she had prepared when her husband returned."

RETURNED THE FIRE.
"She told me that she asked him why he had returned while she was away and locked the door without leaving the key, and that he said that she had no business to be there after he had closed the place up. She said that she had just as much right there as he had and that she intended to stay there. Whereupon he pulled a pistol and fired a shot at her and she took a pistol out of her waist that her father had given her and fired back and kept on firing."

Attorney A. L. Frick is defending the case.

MAKES A STATEMENT

President Shen of the teamsters and President Doid of the Chicago Federation issued the following statement this afternoon:

"To the trades unionists of Chicago. —The teamsters' organization has the situation well in hand and we earnestly request that no sympathetic strike be called or any member leave employment until such time as they are asked to do so by the committee having the matter in charge. We also urge upon all members of organized labor to preserve peace and commit no act that can be interpreted by the courts as a violation of the law or of either injunction issue."

It was further announced that union teams would be supplied to any "fair" house whose team companies had sold out to the new teaming company.

Practically the first victory of the strikers came today from Fuller & Fuller's wholesale drug house. Manager Peters announced that his firm had employed twenty-five union teamsters and would do its hauling with their aid.

SUPREME COURT DENIES PETITIONS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The Supreme Court of the United States today denied the petitions for writs of certiorari in the cases of the Leather Manufacturers Bank of New York and the New York Telephone Company vs. Internal Revenue Collector Treat, thus leaving in effect the decisions of the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. In both cases the war revenue act of 1932 was attacked. The bank case raised the question of its validity as affecting undivided profits, while the telephone case dealt with the tax on messages.

The law was sustained by the Court of Appeals in both cases.

BUMPS INTO MAN, DUMPED INTO JAIL

John Hovey did not realize last night that when he bumped into a man on Broadway that he was running into the arms of the law, and was not aware of his temerity until Deputy Constable Roberts, who alleges he was assaulted, placed him under arrest on a charge of battery.

The belligerent man was turned over to Special Policeman Morrison, who placed him beneath the city clock. The case went over this morning in Police Judge Samuels' court until tomorrow to file a complaint.

Thousand Teamsters Will Be Seen Carrying Rifles.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Chicago is to witness the spectacle tomorrow of 1000 non-union teamsters armed with Winchester rifles. It was admitted this afternoon by Superintendent Reed of the Employers Teaming Company that arrangements were being made to procure the first installment of the rifles, which, being unlicensed, may be carried without infringing of the law.

Chief of Police O'Neill said he would make no attempt to remove this bristling martial effect from Chicago's streets, saying:

"I will not seek to prevent what appears to be legal. There is no law that empowers me to prohibit men from carrying unlicensed weapons, and I'll make no attempt to do so. I was asked for an opinion on this subject by a representative of the Employers' Teaming Company and answered to that effect."

ATTORNEY WISE IS MARRIED

CAN WORSHIP IN THE OLD WAY

OLD BELIEVERS OF MOSCOW UNSEAL THE ALTARS.

MOSCOW, May 1.—The removal of religious disabilities by the Imperial decree enabled the Old Believers of Moscow to celebrate Easter in the churches of Rogosk quarter. The altars, which have been closed for forty-nine years, were unsealed in the presence of the authorities. Many priceless paintings and icons were found to be irretrievably ruined by dampness. The principal service was attended by the prefect of police and General Galitsin, aide-de-camp of the Emperor, who was the bearer of the latter's decree granting religious freedom. JURY COMPLETED

CHICAGO, May 1.—The jury in the case of Johann Hoch, the alleged "Bluebeard," who is now on trial, charged with wife murder, was completed today.

After the jury had been accepted and sworn in, Hoch turned with a smile to the reporters and said:

"That jury is fine."

Assistant State's Attorney Olsen expressed himself as satisfied with the men to try the case. Hoch became much excited when Assistant State's Attorney Olsen declared to the jury that two more grains of arsenic were found in the body of Hoch's late wife, Mrs. Marie Walcher-Hoch was exhumed last week.

The embalming fluid had been given the strongest tests declared the prosecutor, and no arsenic was found in the fluid.

Chief Carroll will communicate with him and also her mother.

WIDOWS SUFFER BY LAW

NEW CHILD LABOR LEGISLATION CAUSING WOMEN MUCH TROUBLE.

The Superior Court here and especially that department presided over by Judge Greene as the Juvenile Department, is just beginning to feel the effects of the new child labor law enacted by the recent Legislature, and for some time to come the wheels of justice will be clogged with applications of women to the court to be allowed to send their children out to work. There are nearly fifty applications now on file with the District Attorney and more coming in every day.

As the law stands it makes it a misdemeanor for an employer to hire a child under fourteen years of age, and all who have such children working for them have served notice upon the parents of this fact and told them that they must get a permit from the courts before they can allow the child to work.

While the law is aimed at an army of people throughout the foreign element of the country who send their children to work rather than to school, it bears heavily upon widows who need the aid of their children to keep the wolf from the door.

In speaking about the law this morning, Judge Greene said: "We have come into contact with some distressing cases where the court is powerless to give any relief. The law is strictly drawn and says that unless the parents or parent is disabled through sickness the child must not be put to work. There was a Mrs. Alice Wiley of 1512 Curtis street before me this morning, a widow, with several small children, who has a boy that is able to earn $10 or $12 a month, and I am going to have the case investigated by the Juvenile Officer."

"But sickness is the only ground we have of giving a parent a permit to work a child, and from what I now see of this law I think experience will show and will have to be made a little more liberal so that we can give deserving people the benefit of their children's labor in case they need it. It, however, is like any law, while good in the main, is bound to work a hardship on some."

SQUADRON OFF PORT DAYET

RUSSIAN SHIPS ARE WAITING FOR COAL AND OTHER SUPPLIES.

SAIGON, French Cochinchina, May 1.—The Russian squadron is lying off Port Dayet, forty miles north of Kamranh Bay, and in Bunking Bay, near Kamranh Bay (outside of territorial waters).

Russian, German and British transports are off Cape St. James, near Saigon, and in the Saigon River.

The French naval division has been mobilized to preserve neutrality in French waters.

TOKIO, May 1.—It is believed that Admiral Rojostevsky continues off the port of Indo-China for the purpose of obtaining coal and other supplies and for maintaining communication with St. Petersburg and the Japanese press is again questioning the faith of the recent assurances of France.

The government here is silent, but it is believed the ministers are preparing to renew the neutrality question with France.

GEORGE FRATUS DEAD.

STRIKERS CARRY CLUBS

Thousand Workmen Follow Red Flag Through the Streets.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 1.—A mob of several hundred foreigners and negroes went on strike from the brick yards in and near Dutchess Junction for higher wages and shorter hours today. They marched to Chelsea, stopping on the way and compelling other workmen to quit the yards. At their head was a Syrian, carrying a pole flying a red handkerchief as a flag, and many of the strikers were armed with clubs.

When the march was completed they had forced out the employees of thirteen brickyards, numbering 1000 to 2000 men. No violence was reported, however.

All plumbing work in this city was stopped today by a strike of union plumbers who demand an increase of minimum wages from $2.75 to $3 a day.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The petition of Oil Nifon, the Chinese agent in the Isthmian Canal zone, for the Panama Lottery Company, for a review of his case, was today denied by the Supreme Court of the United States. He was prosecuted for violation of the anti-lottery laws and sought to escape through a writ of habeas corpus.

"OUTER TROUBLE, OUTER JAIL"

The Hussey family is out of trouble and out of jail. On the motion of Prosecuting Attorney Green this morning in Police Judge Samuels' court the charge of disturbing the peace, preferred by Mrs. M. Gallagher, was dismissed.

The Husseys and the Gallaghers lived in the same building but not on very intimate terms. Mrs. Gallagher reported that the Husseys made so much noise that there was no living with them in the same house.

The Husseys have moved and there is now no more noise. That is the reason for the dismissal of the charges this morning.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES FOR THE LATE MRS. JANE FOOTE WEST MARTIN.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Foote West Martin, widow of the late J. West Martin, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 720 Fourteenth street. The services were conducted by the Rev. Charles T. Walker, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Many friends and acquaintances attended the services to show their last mark of respect to the deceased. Flowers in profusion were sent, and there was scarcely room enough in the spacious drawing room to accommodate the floral offerings.

The services consisted of the solemn and impressive ritual of the Episcopal Church. According to the wish of the deceased all music was dispensed with.

After the services were completed the remains were interred in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery. The interment was private. There were no pallbearers.

For more than fifty years the deceased had been a resident of this city. During that time she was an acknowledged leader of society. She was a member of the Episcopal Church and played an important part in the history of the city, Mississippi and California.

She was a daughter of the late Governor Pontre of Mississippi and a granddaughter of Admiral Foote. She was also a sister of the late Attorney William Foote, who did much to distinguish the California Bar.

DAUGHTER SAVES HER MOTHER

Young Woman's Presence of Mind Saves Two Lives.

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—Joseph Zimmerman, 24 years of age, a well known florist of Ocean Park, recently from Pittsburgh, has lost his life and a party of five prominent people who accompanied him have narrowly escaped death from drowning through the capsizing of a small sailboat at San Pedro. The boat, when a considerable distance off shore, was struck by a sudden squall and capsized, Zimmerman attempted to swim to land, but sank before he reached it. The other members of the party, Mrs. Anna Lowe and her daughter, Miss Irene Lowe of Los Angeles, Miss Edith Baxter of Denver and Ernest Coney and James Penile of Washington, D. C., succeeded in saving themselves by clinging to the overturned boat which was rescued by a steam launch which happened to sight the wrecked craft. Miss Irene Lowe, who is a strong swimmer, kept her mother afloat until they could reach the boat after the accident occurred. Miss Baxter was saved by the two young men of the party. Mrs. Lowe, who is the former wife of a well known mining engineer and capitalist of Denver by that name, is ill as a result of her experience but no serious consequences are apprehended. The body of Zimmerman has not been recovered.

SEND BACK HIS REQUISITION

County Superintendent of Schools Crawford sent in a communication to the Board of Supervisors this morning asking for permission to purchase certain articles for the County Board of Education, which Supervisor Kelley said had already been ordered.

Chairman Mitchell ordered the requisition to be referred back to the Superintendent, with the notification that that was not the way the board did business. The requisition was for "117 pieces of pastboard 12x3 1/2 inches, $1.35, for sending examination paper to districts." The requisition will be referred to the Committee on—

Before the sentence could be finished by Chairman Mitchell, Supervisor Kelley interrupted, saying:

"The goods have been ordered already, before they were asked for."

"The matter," said Chairman Mitchell, "will be referred back to Superintendent Crawford, with the notification that that is not the way this board does business. It will be time enough to order goods when a requisition has been granted by this board."

WANTS THE RETURN OF MONEY

Attorney Demands That W. V. Witcher Settle Account.

NAPA, May 1.—A suit was filed in the Superior Court here by F. E. Johnson, an attorney of Napa, against W. V. Witcher and five other directors of the James H. Goodman & Co. Bank, the bank itself and the Williams Company. The suit is brought to recover $41,000 alleged to have been wrongfully and unlawfully taken from funds of the bank by W. V. Witcher while he was manager of the institution. The complaint sets forth that on October 21, 1903, Witcher was owner of all the stock in the Williams Land and Stock Speculative Company; that he loaned the company and himself indirectly, $41,000 of the bank's funds. On March 14, 1904, F. E. Johnson, as a stockholder of the Goodman Bank, protested against Witcher's action and demanded of the directors that they restore the money loaned by Witcher. The directors failed to do so and Johnson now claims the money was wrongfully used. The plaintiff asks judgment against each of the directors, W. V. Witcher of Oakland, E. W. Churchill, Mrs. A. M. Churchill, V. J. C. Noyes, Dr. E. Z. Hennessy and W. C. Ames of Oakland for $41,000 with 7 per cent interest from October 21, 1903, that the receiver be appointed by the court to receive the money and to pay it back into the bank. Witcher was manager of the bank up to the latter part of 1904.

MAYOR MOTT ON GARBAGE QUESTION

The following letters have been sent by Mayor Mott to the Board of Health and the Chief of Police, relative to the garbage question:

"Oakland, Cal., April 29, 1905. Mr. S. C. Trusting you will give this your prompt attention, I remain, 'FRANK K. MOTT, Mayor.'"

THE ROMAN CATHOLICS IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Roman Catholic population of the United States and its dependencies is far larger than that of any other religious denomination. This fact is brought out by a comparison between the statistics in the Roman Catholic directory for 1905, and those relating to other church bodies, which have been compiled by the Reverend H. K. Carroll, the wide number of Roman Catholics under the protection of the United States flag is 12,127,364. Of these, 7,053,899 are in the Philippines; 1,673,932 in Cuba, 1,000,000 in Porto Rico, and 35,000 in the Sandwich Islands. It would obviously be misleading to include the Roman Catholics of the dependencies in a consideration of the comparative strength of the religious denominations in the United States. Eliminating them, altogether, the Roman Catholics of the country still number 12,462,703, while the next largest church body, the Methodists, have 6,366,738 members. The Baptists follow with 5,035,516, then come the Lutherans, with 1,739,769; the Presbyterians, with 1,697,697; the Episcopalians, with 807,922; the Congregationalists, with 667,951; the Unitarians, with 71,000; the Christian Scientists, with 66,922.

THE ROSE AND THE STAR.

Why is the rose so gay in its flimsy beauty and why is the star of eve always, in the cloudless west, so sad?

The rose lives only for a day, and at dark the dust it dies, while the star shines still o'er river and hill, a joy to mortal eyes.

Why, I say, is the rose so gay, and the evening star never glides, the voice of the wind caught, o'er a shattered rose it blew.

And I know its words, as it wandered by, in the garden, "The rose is gay, though brief its breath, because it never hath looked on death; but the evening star, on high, why should it be so sad? Alas, it hath watched a million summers pass.

Like beautiful visions over a glass, And a myriad roses die!"

TO REMOVE A TIGHT RING.

If you happen to get a ring on your finger that fits so tight you cannot remove it, a very easy way to get it off is as follows:

Take a piece of cord or wrapping thread and push one end of it under the ring. Then, beginning just above the ring, wind the cord very tightly round and round the finger clear up to the tip of the finger. Now take hold of the end of the cord and slip under the ring and unwind the cord. As the string unwinds the ring will be carried along with it and removed without any difficulty. —Medical Talk.

PRESIDENT TO TAKE A HAND

He Will Try and Settle the Strike in Chicago.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, COLO., May 1.—President Roosevelt has agreed to give the Chicago striking teamsters an opportunity to present their petition when he reaches that city on May 10. Word reached the President in his camp on the West Divide Creek that the strikers are preparing to ask him to use his influence in their behalf similarly to the manner in which he adjudicated the anthracite strike three years ago. He has given the strikers no encouragement other than agreeing to receive a delegation from the petitioners should an audience be requested.

Little leisure time will be at the disposal of Mr. Roosevelt in Chicago. The party will arrive in Chicago at noon and at once will attend the luncheon given by the Merchants' Club. The Hamilton Club reception is expected to continue from 2 until 4:30 p. m., and after that the President will rest at the apartments reserved for him at the Auditorium Hotel. The Iroquois Club dinner will begin at 7 p. m., and when that is over the party will return to the special train and spend the night on board.

The President cannot give consideration to the petition until he reaches Washington.

Secretary Loeb went to the President's camp today. The length of his stay is undecided. He may remain over a day or two to participate in the hunt. The camp will be moved today to the East Divide, where it was located first.

CLAIM OF DALTON REJECTED

ASSESSOR WILL NOW TAKE HIS CASE IN COURTS OF THE COUNTY.

The Board of Supervisors, this morning, rejected the claim of County Assessor Henry P. Dalton, which has been standing unsatisfied for several years. This action was taken practically at the request of Mr. Dalton himself.

"I would like," said Mr. Dalton, "to have the Board of Supervisors at this time. The District Attorney has advised the Board to reject the claim. 'Where is the bill?' asked Chairman Mitchell.

Deputy Clerk Pierce read the claim, showing the demand of the County Assessor to be in the sum of $13,036.95.

Supervisor Kelley moved that the claim be rejected.

The motion was seconded by Supervisor Horner and carried by the unanimous vote of the Board.

It is Mr. Dalton's intention to have the Courts pass upon his claim against the county.

CORTELYOU MAY BE PRESIDENT

Rumor That He Will Have Charge of Equitable Life.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—It is reported here that Postmaster General Cortelyou has been agreed upon for President of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York as a compromise between President Alexander of that Society and First Vice President Hyde. This arrangement is said to have been brought about by United States Senator Knox and Henry C. Frick, chairman of the executive committee of the society.

Mr. Cortelyou declines to discuss the matter.

NEW YORK, May 1.—An official of the Equitable Life Assurance Society to whom was shown the dispatch announcing the report in Washington that Postmaster-General Cortelyou had been offered the presidency of the society, said:

"Mr. Alexander is president of the Equitable. The report that the presidency has been offered to some one else cannot be correct."

Mr. Hyde was shown the dispatch. He read it through and then asked to be excused from comment on it.

THIS MAN HAS AN AWFUL THIRST

Charles E. Edwards was more than ordinarily dry last night, if the complaint of the police against him may be believed, and he resorted to burglary to quench his thirst. The place selected by Edwards was the saloon of J. A. Cianciarulo, 833 Washington street. He stayed there until 12 o'clock last night trying to drink his fill, but did not succeed. After the proprietor had departed Edwards is alleged to have left himself into the saloon and to have taken two bottles of whiskey.

Detectives Holland and Shorey were apprised of the matter and after little trouble succeeded in locating Edwards in his room. The two bottles of whiskey were found and taken to the City Hall to be used as evidence.

There was no complaint against the thirsty man this morning, so Judge Samuels continued the case until tomorrow.

DEPUTY CONSTABLE IS ACCUSED.

William Williams was arrested last night by Policeman Shannon, on a charge of disturbing the peace of Joe Perry of 906 East Fourteenth street. Williams is a deputy constable and claims that he was seeking to arrest Perry for fighting. The case will be heard by Police Judge Samuels tomorrow.

THE DERELICT, SILENT TERROR OF THE SEA.

Of all the spectacles of the seas, none is so tragic as the derelict, the errand of the trackless deep. Weird beyond description is the picture presented by some broken and battered hulk, as he swings into view against the sky-line, with the turgid green seas sweeping over her moss-grown decks, and a splintered fragment of mast pointing upward, as if in protest against her undoing. It is a sight able to arouse fear.

For the derelict is the most potent of all the dangers that threaten the seafarer. Silent, stealthy, invisible, it is the terror of the mariner. It is the arch-hypocrite of the deep. Against it, skill of seamanship, vigilance in watching, avail not. Lights and whistles, beams and buoys proclaim the proximity of land; the throbbing of engines, the noise of the shipboard life tell of an approaching vessel; icebergs and floes betray themselves by their ghastly radiance and surrounding frigidity of air. The derelict gives no warning, makes no signal. The first sign of its existence is the crash, the sickening tremble and quaver of the ship suddenly wounded to death. —From "The Terror of the Sea," by P. T. McGrath in the May McClure's.

CHINA'S OVERESTIMATED POPULATION.

W. W. Rockhill, the newly appointed American minister to China and a well known Eastern traveler, and author, says that the present population of China, instead of being, as it is usually given, nearly 450,000,000, is probably not much over 250,000,000. The census of 1741, which Mr. Rockhill considers more trustworthy than any other, shows 143,000,000. Considering the numerous devastating famines and wars of the succeeding 150 years, the natural annual increase would be small. Far from being overpopulated, many portions of China could support a greatly increased population. —New York Tribune.

SAYS HE HIT HER IN EYE

Trouble Over a Cow Ends in Charge of Battery.

John Lawlor, a youth who, in defending his mother, is alleged to have hit Mrs. Isabella Irwin in the eye, was before Police Judge Samuels this morning on a charge of battery.

The complaint charging him with battery was not filed until court adjourned this morning, so the case went over until tomorrow.

According to Mrs. Irwin, who resides at College and Hudson avenues, she was knocked down by the force of the blow and was compelled to call a physician to treat the injuries she received at the hands of young Lawlor.

She says: "The entire trouble is about a cow that was pastured in a square on which Mrs. Lawlor, mother of the young man who hit me, had a horse pasture. She told me that if I did not remove the cow that she would shoot me and my son. I told her that a woman who talked that way must be either drunk or crazy. I then left her."

Soon afterwards her son called on me and asked me to call his mother crazy. I then related the circumstances which led up to my making use of the words which are now charged against me. 'Without warning he hit me in the eye and also in the chest. I was in bed for two weeks.'"

"I understand that Mrs. Lawlor has continued to state that she will kill me. I am an old man and I thought the only way out of the trouble was to put her under bonds to keep the peace." So I called on the police for assistance."

OBJECT TO A SALOON

WOMEN APPEAR BEFORE SUPERVISORS AND ENTER PROTEST.

Four women, Mrs. R. H. Scott, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Bayliss and Mrs. Benedict, appeared in person before the Supervisors today and protested against the granting of a liquor license to L. B. Van der Grift at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Levee avenue. They held that there were now too many saloons in that district, and that the protest and not Van der Grift's petition, had the names of the six nearest property owners to the proposed saloon.

DENIED.

Van der Grift denied the latter statement.

Supervisor Talcott believed with the women that there are enough saloons now on the San Leandro road and favored rejecting the application.

Supervisor Rowe said he would look further into the matter, and the case accordingly went over till next week.

PETITION AND PROTEST.

Van der Grift's petition was signed by 127 electors of Precinct No. 6 in Brooklyn Township. There is no general election on file against saloons in that district.

The protest bears the names of thirteen people, six of whom are alleged to be the nearest property owners to the proposed saloon. The protestants are: Mrs. R. H. Scott, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Bayliss, Mrs. Benedict, Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Attell, Mrs. W. H. Mullins, M. E. Wait and J. H. Seely.

WOMEN'S OBJECTIONS.

Mrs. Scott objected to the saloon because her home was next door to the proposed place and for a considerable part of her time she had to be alone there. There was a saloon now at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Fremont avenue, which was only a block away. The saloon was projected after she had gone to reside in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Armstrong said she lived right next door to Van der Grift's place and that was decidedly unpleasant. She would oppose the granting of a license to her brother, where Van der Grift proposed to do business.

Mrs. Bayliss' opposition was based upon the fact that she had three daughters who were compelled to pass the saloon on their way to school. She was very much annoyed by the noise and the fact that there were more saloons there now than there ought to be and the talk which one heard in passing there was anything but pleasant.

In response to questions by Supervisor Rowe, Mrs. Benedict said she had protested against the saloon because the saloon was in that vicinity, but the other women declared that they had not been approached on that subject.

CONFLICT.

L. B. Van der Grift, the applicant for the license said that he had the names of 127 voters in the precinct on his petition. While the other side of the protest named the names of only thirteen people. Among the latter there was one signed who was not a resident of the district and another who was not a citizen. In the thirteen protestants, he alleged there were but five legal voters.

Supervisor Mitchell said that as there was a question as to the legality of the petition the County Surveyor, at the expense of Van der Grift, would have to determine whether the petition or protest contained the names of the six nearest property owners to the saloon, which the law requires shall be on every saloon petition.

On motion Supervisor Kelley to that effect the matter was continued till Monday next.

WOMAN WITHOUT MONEY

Comes From Canada; Cannot Find Her Husband.

BERKELEY, May 1.—A pathetic story was related today to Marshal Vollmer by Mrs. Mary Northcott, who has come all the way from Canada with her 6-year-old son to meet her husband, whom she supposed lived in Berkeley, only to find that no trace of him is discoverable in this town.

Mrs. Northcott is practically penniless. She was given shelter and food yesterday by William Henderson, proprietor of the Owl restaurant, and by him introduced to Marshal Vollmer. Mrs. Northcott says that her husband left her in Underwood, Canada, about six months ago, expecting to secure work in California. She was to come West when he could provide for her. She heard from him last about five weeks ago, she says, when he wrote her from Berkeley.

He said in the letter that he wanted very much to see her and she, weary of living alone, packed her belongings and started for the Pacific Coast. She had barely enough money to get her to Berkeley, supposing that when once here she would easily find her husband and her troubles would be at an end.

Marshal Vollmer will institute a search for the missing husband.

WHEN ADAM WAS BOSS.

"Was Eden and the sun sank low," "There!" Adam said, "I told you so!" "I said the sun was not stuck fast." "What poor were quite too good to last."

The sun went down. "Come, get a gait! We'll freeze, and that's an awful fate." "Come, Eve," said Adam, "come, let's run—"

We must make haste and catch the sun."

Then answered Eve her stouter mate:

"And trust the power that put us here Fixed things much better than appear."

But Adam gave his head a toss, And scowled: "Remember who is boss!" So off they went, as Adam guessed, While poor were followed on, due west.

Now, as folks will who compass lack,

Their trust around their own dear fate, And when their strength had almost ceased, They saw the sun burst from—the east.

"What did I tell you?" Adam cried, "I'll well on me that you relied. How sure it is, if not stuck fast, Now, see, at last we've caught the sun!"

—New York Times.

HOW THE RAILROAD DOES IT.

Those four California senators were expelled for accepting a "courtesy" of $250 apiece from certain interests in San Francisco, which had an interest in legislation. Thoughtful individuals may ponder the difference between accepting $250 cash from a party that is interested in legislation and accepting merchandise to the value of $250, more or less, for instance, a railroad pass. —Nebraska State Journal.

RAILROAD MEN TO PETITION TRACTION COMPANY.

Tired Southern Pacific Employees
Want Good Service—Notes
From the Yards.

WEST OAKLAND YARDS, May 1.—The inconvenience to which the employees of the Southern Pacific are put by the action of the street car men and transfer system of the Oakland Traction Consolidated has called forth a vigorous protest from the railroad men and a petition asking the transit people to change their system will soon be in circulation.

The most objectionable feature of the system is that which obtains at the transfer point at Eighth and Washington streets. Many of the railroad men employed at the West Oakland yards live in East Oakland. They ride down to the east side of Washington street on East Eighth street cars and transfer to the West Eighth street cars, which they take at the east side of Washington street.

Complaint is made that, just as one car reaches Washington street the other car across that thoroughfare pulls out, regardless of the fact that many passengers are turning across the street in an endeavor to catch the outgoing vehicle. The result is that the men, tired after a long day's work, at the shops, are compelled to wait on the corner ten or fifteen minutes for the next car and sometimes their transfers are not accepted on the ground that they have overrun the time limit.

In going to work the inconvenience is all the greater as the men are often late at the shops as a result of waiting for cars.

The petition will ask that conductors and motormen be required to wait until passengers can conveniently transfer from one car to another. Another complaint is that motormen refuse to stop to take on passengers at Third Avenue and East Twelfth street. Prospective passengers, it is alleged, are sometimes compelled to wait until four or five cars have passed that point before they can induce a motorman to take them aboard.

LIKE PRESENT SYSTEM.

Those who have been placed on the pension list of the Southern Pacific Company are highly satisfied with the system. Now they receive their checks at their homes and are not put to the trouble of going to the pay car or the shops for their pensions.

From advice received from Denver it seems probable that Colorado will be the principal State selected by the Rock Island and Frisco systems in which to locate employees to be benefited by the new pension plan which is to be placed in operation.

The officials of the two systems have decided to make a certain length of time by supplying them with home-lands of 160 acres of agricultural land in the Western States, and B. F. Winchell, president of the Rock Island, a former Denver man, has been investigating the situation in Colorado.

General Agent Charles B. Sloat of the Rock Island system, supplied Winchell with charts and maps of Colorado land open for settlement and it is believed that this State is favored by the officials who have the matter in charge.

The necessary water for irrigation purposes is to be supplied by the railroad companies so that the plan, if followed, means much to the beneficiaries.

"Opinion is divided here regarding the feasibility of the Rock Island plan," said Foreman Robert Yates of the machinists today. "A majority of the men, however, favor the Southern Pacific plan of giving the pensions in money. They are not prevented from doing other work because of the pensions. Many feel that a railroad man who had worked with machinery all his life would make a poor farmer if he began at the age of 70, just as an old farmer would have a hard time if placed in a railroad shop."

The big ferry steamer Solano went to Port Costa yesterday under her own steam and will be in commission Wednesday, when the new time card known as 102, will go into effect. After that date trains will not go to Sacramento by way of Stockton, but will cross the Carquinez straits on the Solano as formerly.

The Solano was accompanied to Port Costa by the tug Queen and many railroad men who went to enjoy the outing.

OTHER FERRY BOATS.

The ferry boat Captain, that plies between Vallejo and Vallejo Junction, will be the next steamer to go on the ways. She will be thoroughly overhauled. The ferry steamer Berkeley will tie up at the broad gauge mole this evening and for the next seven or eight days will be inspected by inspectors of Hulls and Boilers Holes and Bulger.

Several religious societies about the bay are negotiating with President Hamilton to purchase the ferry steamer Amador, recently commenced by the government inspectors. Their purpose is to convert the steamer into a floating gospel mission.

ANSWERS LAST SIGNAL.

Milton McGuire, one of the old-time engineers of the Southern Pacific, who has been at Colindale, Nevada, on a leave of absence, died there Saturday. His wife, who lives in Oakland, was called to Colindale and arrived at her husband's bedside just before he expired.

McGuire was the engineer of the Owl train that was wrecked several years ago and he was one of the best known engineers on this division.

The body will be brought to Oakland and the funeral will be conducted by the order of Locomotive Engineers.

GENERAL NOTES.

Divers went to work today repairing the main ways that were damaged in launching the ferry boat Solano. The heavy rollers were bent and otherwise injured and will be repaired at the machine shops.

The steamer Bay City will take the place of the El Capitán on the run between Vallejo and Vallejo Junction, while the latter is undergoing repairs.

An air motor has been installed on the turn table at the round house, which will make it possible for one man to turn the table instead of the four men required when the work was done by hand.

The flagpole at the round house is about 100 feet high and will carry a 50 foot flag with stars and stripes.

PERSONALS.

Inspector Slavin has returned from a general tour of inspection. He visited Mendota, Tracy, Lathrop and Lodi.

Billy Hickman, who went to Chicago to live with his sister, has grown weary of the windy city. He returned yesterday and will stay here for a while.

Clive Patterson, who has been ill, has recovered and has gone to Old Aetna, Siskiyou county, to visit his parents. He will visit Portland before returning.

PROFESSOR RITTER WRITES BULLETIN.

BERKELEY, May 1.—Professor William E. Ritter has written a bulletin which the University issued today entitled "A General Statement of the Ideas and the Present Aims and Status of the Marine Biological Association of San Diego." The contents include chapters on the idea of a marine biological survey, the area to be surveyed, order of advance along the numerous lines of investigation, knowledge of the physical conditions of the area, instrumentalities for prosecution of such a survey, necessity of a staff, present status as to ways and means, remarks on the present conditions of marine biology in general.

FUN AT IDORA PARK.

At Idora Park yesterday the feature that attracted a large crowd was the balloon ascension and parachute jump by a monkey.

"Jocko, who is owned by Professor Hamilton the aeronaut, has been trained to the business of ballooning. He made the jump fastened to the parachute when the balloon was about a quarter of a mile high and came down close to the park gates.

Norman Stanley won applause with his singing of the popular ballad, "The Hills of Old Vermont," in the frog theater.

On the biograph the life of a convict was shown with sufficient vividness to convince one that the straight and narrow path would, after all, be wide enough for him to return to his own air work on the trapeze.

Beginning tomorrow a social dance will be given in the pavilion every Tuesday evening.

SOME THOUGHT MINISTER USED DRUGS.

Many Church Members Did Not Like
Rev. Courtwright—Charges of His Daughter.

The trial of Alice B. Courtwright did not proceed this morning owing to the fact that she did not feel able to go on with the case, and also because there is some testimony at Albany, Or., that her attorney wants to get in her behalf.

She is the daughter of the probate court at Chicago when she was examined for insanity and adjudged insane by him that her father, the Rev. C. W. Courtwright, was not to be believed, as he was addicted to the use of drugs.

Courtwright, his wife and another daughter have explained the fact that he took a great deal of quinine and some medicine under prescription on account of malaria.

In order to prove that Miss Courtwright had a foundation for saying what she said and that it was not a delusion, the writer has been looking for a letter from an attorney at Albany, Or., where Rev. Courtwright was pastor of a church for some time in which the attorney states that Courtwright's congregation became dissatisfied with him and he was relieved of his charge before his trial.

His states that there was also some talk to the effect that he was addicted to the use of drugs, and that this was the writer refers to William Fort Miller and Frank J. Miller, and a continuance has been asked in order to get the depositions of these men upon this subject.

Both Courtwright and his wife testified on the stand that he had never taken either the one or the other medicine for a longer period than three months but that he was subject to attacks of malaria. The telegram, the basis of the request for a continuance this morning, read as follows:

"H. D. Walker, 306 Broadway.—The members of the church here dislike Courtwright. Were much dissatisfied. Some thought him addicted to drugs."

This is also supplemented with a letter in which the writer states that for further information upon this subject he mentioned the names, William Fort Miller and Frank J. Miller.

They are bending their efforts to show that she is sane on many subjects, it is contended. Deputy District Attorney Harris said these claims do not go to the point of the present inquiry, which, figuratively speaking, is that there is "screw loose somewhere in her mental machinery."

The fact that she now has made the same charges as her husband-in-law, Thomas Glenn, here as she made charges, members of her family in Chicago and a number of other persons, it is contended has not been met by anything but her denial.

SEND BACK HIS CURFEW BELL TO REPORT

SUPERVISORS WILL NOT ACCEPT
KELLER'S COMMUNI-CATION.

The following communication was sent to the Board of Supervisors this morning by P. J. Keller, purporting to be a report of his work as Horticultural Commissioner up to April 17, 1905.

On motion of Supervisor Kelley, the document was ordered returned to the author, for the reason that the Board has another man looking after the horticultural interests of the district which Keller says he represents.

"Oakland, Cal., May 1, 1905. To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Alameda county Gentlemen, I respectfully beg leave to submit my report as Horticultural Commissioner of Alameda county up to April 17, 1905, at which date my resignation was presented because of personal vilification of myself by those interested in the removal from office coveted by others."

"Being a law-abiding citizen, I shall take legal proceedings against my traducers. The so-called owners of orchards who signed the petition for my removal are not acquainted with the law of this State. Some of the latter perhaps could plead ignorance of the law owing to the fact that they could not read or write, but made their mark with the emblem of their salvation. Allow me to call your attention to the fact that an illustrious statesman, namely General Benjamin F. Butler, in a public address delivered in Paris, France, in the city of Boston, 1875, the cradle of American Liberty, declared that a petition could be obtained to hand three of the most prominent citizens of that city owing to the ignorance of the signers. I was present and heard his address."

"I have, since my last report was rendered to your honorable body, examined a number of trees, plants and shrubs, etc., some of them shipped from within this county, others from outside, from foreign countries, Eastern States, etc. They never forget to display conspicuous notices that they are free from San Jose black scale. They also published such in their catalogues, which is a great injury to this State. The so-called San Jose scale is anything but an American production. It came originally from the Orient, Japan and China. I have inspected a consignment of plants shipped from Niles, consigned to the Japanese nursery in Alameda. I find the oranges infested with live black scale. I wish to call your attention to the fact that the certificate was certified to by the Horticultural commission, which is a great injury to this State. ## THE LATEST NEWS OF THE DAY=4:30 P.M.

SEE SON'S DEAD BODY.

Convicted Murderess Asks to Leave
Cell to Follow Boy's Remains to the Grave.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, convicted murderess, begged a favor today from the Judge before whom she was convicted. She asked permission to view the dead body of her only son, Beverly B. Botkin, who died yesterday at Byron Springs.

Just one year to a day from the death of his father, Welcome Botkin, Beverly B. Botkin died. His mother is awaiting sentence in the County Jail for the poisoning of Mrs. John P. Dunning and Miss Dean at their home in Wilmington, Del., and although refused permission to attend the funeral of her deceased husband, Superior Judge Cook has advised the Sheriff to allow her to view the body of her son at undertaking parlors in this city and to follow his remains to the grave.

Mrs. Florence Roberts of 314 Leavenworth street, who is identified with Beth Adriel Mission of San Jose, who has been a friend of Mrs. Botkin ever since her arrest, and who has stood by her during her long siege in the County Jail, has taken charge of the arrangements for the funeral of Beverly Botkin. It was she who called upon Judge Cook when a permit was wanted for the convicted murderess to attend the funeral of the deceased husband, Welcome Botkin, and secured the necessary permission for the woman to attend the funeral services.

COULD NOT GIVE AN ORDER.
Judge Cook did not instruct the Sheriff to allow Mrs. Botkin to visit the undertaking parlors and attend the funeral. He had no power to do that. He did advise the official to use his discretion in the matter, however, and if Sheriff Curtis sees fit Mrs. Botkin will be out of her prison cell for a time at least. She will be always in the custody of a deputy, and will not be permitted to get out of his sight.

"I refused to grant a permit when Mrs. Botkin wanted to attend the funeral," said Judge Cook this morning. "They had been divorced, and I could see no reason why she should be allowed to go to his funeral. In this case the situation is different. Beverly Botkin was an only son. She appeared to be a devoted mother, and it was but natural that she should want to follow his body to the grave. I made no objection in the matter, but if the Sheriff sees fit there will be no objection on the part of the court to Mrs. Botkin going out in the custody of an officer."

WAS AN ONLY SON.
Beverly B. Botkin was an only son of Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, the convicted murderess, and the late Welcome Botkin, her divorced husband. He was a native son of 21 years of age, and had lived in this city all his life. When his mother was arrested for sending the poisoned candy through the mails which caused the death of two innocent victims, up De la Valle, the son stood with the mother as against his father, and up to the time of his death he was loyal to her interests.

His death was caused by valvular disease of the heart, the same ailment which carried off his father. He had been a sufferer for a long time, and only recently had been advised by a physician to leave the city. Word of his death reached his mother in prison last night.

BELLBOY
HELD FOR THEFT

He is Supposed to Be
One of the Diamond
Robbers.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Ned Williams, supposed to be a member of the team of diamond robbers, is in custody here. He was arrested by Detective O'Dea on suspicion of having robbed two rooms at the Hotel Pleasanton on Sutter street, where he has been employed for the past two weeks, and although he denies his guilt he is held in custody of the police.

The alleged robbery of the rooms of Mrs. B. Butler and Mrs. L. A. Ellis, both patrons of the Hotel Pleasanton, is what led to the undoing of Williams. Saturday night both rooms were entered by means of a skeleton key, and well-filled purses were secured by the clever thief. Detective O'Dea, who was detailed on the case, identified Williams and took him into custody. He was well supplied with hotel pass keys when searched at the prison, and this is considered most damaging evidence against him.

Williams is said to be a member of the band of bellboy thieves who secure employment at summer resorts and leading hotels throughout the country, and thrive by robbing the apartments of patrons. His last trouble was in connection with the big hotel diamond robbery in Pasadena. He made little progress in the case, but he was unable to get any direct evidence against them, and all were discharged. Something like $50,000 worth of gems were secured by the thieves in the Pasadena robbery.

Andrew Yates, the local bellboy who robbed the Gundelfinger family in their rooms in this city and secured $15,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry, and who is now serving a term from Chicago for a hotel robbery there, was a great friend of Williams. They were working together at the hotel in Pasadena when the diamond robbery was committed, and were cell mates in the southern jail.

SEVEN YEARS FOR POISONER.

STOCKTON, May 1.—Harry McWilliams, a negro, who was convicted of attempting to poison Mrs. Eattie King by putting Paris green in the sugar, was today sentenced by Judge Nutter to seven years in San Quentin.

BUNKERS TO BE SENTENCED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—To-morrow at Sacramento Harry Bunkers, the convicted booby, will be taken before Judge Hart for sentence. At that time Attorney H. V. Moorehouse will move for an arrest of judgment and a new trial. As Judge Hart was very liberal toward the defense in the trial made through-out the trial, and as his instructions to the jury were altogether fair, there is no likelihood that the motions of Attorney Moorehouse will prevail.

When the verdict of the jury was returned on Saturday Judge Hart had sentenced Bunkers to the state prison for seven years, but later upon the motion of Moorehouse, he changed the date to May 1 to-morrow.

THREAT AGAINST WORKERS

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 1.—Manager Schupp, one of the largest brewers on the coast, declared today that unless employees of the plants in the Northwest Brewers' Association return to work tomorrow they will never again be permitted to work in breweries of the association.

TRAINMEN ARE EXONERATED.

SAN JOSE, May 1.—The coroner's jury this afternoon exonerated the trainmen for the death of William Nichols, the old man who was run over by a train near Lawrence station yesterday and killed. Nichols was driving cows across the track when killed.

WILL FOR PROBATE.
The will of the late Rev. W. J. Madden was admitted to probate today by Judge Ogden. He leaves an estate of about $1800 to the Rev. H. Wyman of 628 California street with whom he was associated for many years.

WAS HE GIVEN POISON?

Physician Says Death
Was Not Caused
By Drowning.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—An autopsy was held today on the body of the unknown man who was washed up yesterday on the shore of Bay Farm Island, by Dr. Lum.

The investigations disclosed the fact that the man was evidently dead before being thrown into the water, and Dr. Lum was unable to find any traces of violence on the body.

This gives rise to the theory that the man must have been poisoned and search will be made for the drug or drugs thought to have caused the death of the unknown man.

AWAKENED BY FLAMES

FIRE IN AUTOMOBILE SHOP MAY BE OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN.

A mysterious fire was discovered in the automobile shop of S. C. Meyers, 511 Sixteenth street, at 3:30 o'clock this morning.

It was extinguished by the fire department with a loss of about $300.

The flames were first discovered in the corner of a room which was removed from the shop or where inflammable material was stored.

Meyers, who sleeps above the store, was awakened by the crackling of flames. He at once turned in an alarm and then attempted to extinguish the flames with fire fighting apparatus on the premises. He made little progress in subduing the fire and it was necessary for the firemen to come to his assistance.

There is on hand in the store about $10,000 worth of automobiles and material. The building suffered nearly all of the damage.

A colony of Japanese had rooms in the building. They had been ordered by the owner to move or else take the entire building. The Japanese did not take the building and had to move.

Whether this circumstance had anything to do with the fire or not is not known.

GOULD SAYS HE IS SOLE OWNER

In answer to his wife's petition for permanent maintenance, H. Gould stated this morning that although he has been married to his wife forty years all his property is separate property and that his interest in the company that bears his name was money accumulated before his marriage.

Attorney Fred Whitney says that Mrs. Gould states that in 1870 her husband went through insolvency and that they had to place a mortgage on their home in West Oakland at that time to save it from the creditors. She claims that all of his property has been amassed since 1870, and that the Enclined Mills in which he is a large shareholder consist of earnings saved since she married him.

The hearing of the suit has been set for two weeks from today.

CONTEST DECIDED FOR THE HEIRS

The contention of the heirs over the division of the estate of the late Emile Alexander was decided this afternoon by Judge Ogden in favor of Henry, George and Caesar Alexander and Mrs. Mary Rosenthal as against Guslie Alexander, who claimed the entire estate. When her mother died she made a will in which she left her unmarried daughter Guslie her entire estate so long as she remained unmarried. The estate is worth about $10,000, and before her death Mrs. Alexander gave Guslie a deed to the home at Telegraph avenue and Twentieth street. By deed she has the larger portion of the estate but under the will she claimed it all as she contended the will meant that if she remained single until her mother died she should have it all. Judge Ogden decided against her on this point.

FRENCH POLICY

PARIS, May 1.—The British Minister to Morocco, Gerald Lowther, in an interview with the Temps correspondent today at Tangier, made an official declaration that the purpose of his visit to Fez is to support the French policy in Morocco.

NEW YORK, May 1.—After careful inquiry the Associated Press is able to deny the report in Washington that Postmaster-General Cortelyou has been agreed upon for president of the Equitable Assurance Society of New York, as a compromise between President Alexander of the society and First Vice-President Hyde.

GRAND
ACTION

Private Safe in Tax Collector's Office is Open.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—A private safe kept by Tax Collector E. J. Smith in his private office at the City Hall was opened this morning in the presence of Foreman Young and Detective Tom Gibson.

The strictest secrecy is maintained as to what was found there, the only information given out being that the inspection of the contents was a very important part of the investigation of Smith's defalcation, and that the results could not be made public at this time.

McCABE IS UNDER FIRE

Acting Tax Collector James W. McCabe, the deputy who knew of Smith's thefts, yet failed to report them, was called into the private office and kept there. McCabe is under suspicion and in time will have to undergo a searching examination at the hands of the Grand Jury. He has already admitted that he knew Smith robbed the city in at least one instance. Foreman Andrews and District Attorney Byington think he knows a great deal more and can throw light upon all the rottenness of the tax office if forced to tell the whole truth. The hurried calling of him into the presence of the Grand Jury foreman, the District Attorney, Expert Young and Detective Gibson when the private safe was opened this morning was at least significant.

T. E. Atkinson is the Mayor's choice for Tax Collector. He is slated for appointment to the office made vacant by the removal of Smith, and may be named this afternoon. Unless Schmitz unexpectedly changes his mind, Atkinson will be appointed. Hiles Farland, who was the Union Labor candidate for Tax Collector in the last municipal campaign, stands second in favor.

ANARCHISTS FOLLOW
THE RED FLAG

PARIS, May 1.—Later it was announced that the demonstration at Toulon has assumed a threatening aspect. Anarchists marched in a procession, carrying a red flag, chanting a revolutionary hymn and bearing a banner inscribed "Remember the victims of capital at Chicago, Limoges and Martignac."

An affray occurred in front of the naval arsenal, during which several workmen were slightly injured.

YOUTH DIES FROM HIS INJURIES

ALAMEDA, May 1.—Harry Deems, the seventeen-year-old son of Mrs. Deems of Emchal avenue, beyond High street, who was thrown from his horse about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, died this afternoon. No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

TO FIGHT
WITH A
RIFLENon-Union Teamsters Will Protect Themselves
From Attack.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Every wagon sent out hereafter by the Employers' Teaming Company is to be protected by a rifle in the hands of the driver, or his assistant.

This was the announcement made today by officials of the Chicago Employers' Association. Two thousand rifles have been ordered, together with ammunition belts, and will be distributed to the drivers at once. The move has been carefully considered and the legal aspect looked into.

Under decisions of the United States Supreme Court it is declared every man has a right to protect his life or property with firearms, provided such arms are not concealed. There is an Illinois State law against assembling for the purpose of bearing arms, but the Supreme Court has clearly defined that this means.

WOMAN
INDICTED

Grand Jury Takes Up
the Case of Mrs.
Rose Torturici.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Unless the Grand Jury can be induced to find a true bill against Rosa Torturici, the wife of Pietro Torturici will never be charged with complicity in the murder of Biagio Vilaro. All of the circumstantial evidence in the possession of the police was put before the inquisitorial body this afternoon, and the jurors are now deliberating as to whether there can be sufficient testimony put before a jury to warrant holding her on a capital charge.

Captain Burnett said this morning that should an indictment be returned the woman would be booked before a hearing can be had on the habeas corpus writ, which is returnable before Superior Judge Lawlor tomorrow. If the jury does not indict there will remain nothing for the police to do but to order her release. But the release of Rosa Torturici does not mean that she will escape police surveillance when at liberty. Wherever she may go, the department will keep in close touch with her movements, and should Torturici attempt to join her there will be an officer at hand to take the murderer into custody.

Chief Dinan stated this morning that there was nothing in the report that the department believed Torturici had committed suicide. He says the police have heard nothing that would lend color to such an idea, and he cannot imagine who is responsible for the report. The detectives detailed on the case are still keeping a close watch on the Sicilian quarter, but it is not generally believed that Torturici is still in the city.

THE ROAD

Resident of Old Gilroy
Supposed to Have Been Murdered.

SAN JOSE, May 1.—The body of William Brown, resident of Old Gilroy, was found this morning lying beside the road between that town and Gilroy. Bruises on the head gave evidence that he had been murdered. Brown rode to Gilroy last evening with some Japanese farm hands, but his movements for that time have not yet been traced. He leaves a widow and four children. An inquest will be held this evening. No theory as to the murder has yet been settled upon.

FITZPATRICK IS NON-SUITED.

COURT DECIDES THAT HE HAS
NO CLAIM AGAINST MRS.
BENTLEY.

Joseph Fitzpatrick, whose claim against Mrs. Horora Bentley for $1500 has been before the courts for some time in the form of a suit, was non-suited this morning by Judge Ellsworth who decided that he had no foundation for his claim.

Mrs. Bentley is a resident of Berkeley, who owns considerable property, and Fitzpatrick, who has been living at her home for a number of years, first made the charge that she had agreed to marry him and that when she failed to make her promise good he began the present suit. He claims that $750 was due him for work and $1000 on a note. Several attorneys have withdrawn from his side of the case and this morning he appeared before Judge Ellsworth without an attorney. Mrs. Bentley was represented by Attorney Abe Leach, and after listening to Fitzpatrick's statement the Judge decided that he had little or no basis for an action.

Mrs. Bentley denied that she had ever given Fitzpatrick a note for $1200 and there is some question of its being genuine. She states that Fitzpatrick has often collected rent for her and that she has given him receipts for money he collected, but never borrowed any from him.

TEAMSTER KILLED
ON THE ROAD

SALINAS, May 1.—Timothy Sullivan, for over fifteen years employed as a teamster on Henry Allen's peach ranch, was found dead two miles from Salinas this morning. The body was terribly crushed. Sullivan left last night driving six horses attached to a wagon containing about two tons of provisions. When the team was found wandering on the road without a driver, which was made, it is supposed that the deceased fell under the wagon which passed over him.

George W. Dow, a lineman, formerly in the employ of the Sunset Telephone Company, has begun an action against the company for $20,000 damages for a shock that he sustained while at work which nearly cost him his life and left him in an enfeebled condition. He was sent to Sixty-third and Grove streets to go to the home of Harry Frazier, and he was rendered unconscious. The suit is brought by Attorney Harry Frazier and Stanley Moore, who state that their client has sustained injuries that are permanent.

GRACE VAN STUDDIFORD BELIEVES IN SPORT.

GRACE VAN STUDDIFORD AND HER DOG.

When the curtain falls and the spectators put on their wraps and press their way out of the theater into the night, do they never pause and reflect on what the lives of the actors and actresses are off the stage? Playfellow, like others, have recreations, of which the lovers of the theater know little, or hear incidentally from time to time. In this day of outdoor sport the testimony of Grace Van Studdiford, the star of "Red Feather," is interesting because she belongs to the musical rather than the theatrical branch of dramatic endeavor and has been a prominent figure in amusements here on several occasions. Here is the latest chat of Miss Van Studdiford with a reporter, during the Philadelphia season of "Red Feather." The chorus was singing the opening number in the second act of the opera, when the reporter felt, rather than saw, his way among the shadows of the scenery. Within an arm's length were the red curtains that separated the audience from the regions beyond. The prima donna, in her conspirator's dress, was sitting in the alcove, of the hall room waiting her cue.

One's first impression of Miss Van Studdiford is that of sturdy, good health. She admits that she scarcely knows what illness is. To what does she ascribe her physique? Devotion to outdoor life, she says. But let her speak for herself.

"The stage does not claim me for its own for twelve long months of the year. Oh, no, that would be too much for a good thing. During the summer I hurry to get away from the prompter, musical director and stage manager. I have a home in the suburbs of St. Louis, you know, and dogs, horses, golf and tennis. With these I manage to get benefit to myself—health and enjoyment.

"It is simply glorious to live out of doors. I would rather be in the open than anywhere else in the world—no, not exactly. For I would rather sing and feed that people enjoyed my singing than anything else, but, next to my music, I love the air—free, open, untrammelled."

Do you not sometimes think that Europe and its sights hold more enchantment than a romp with your dogs and take my dogs with me. Then, too, I would not be content to plunder dusty museums. Not that I lack artistic instinct, but I would rather be on St. Andrew's links than looking at medieval curiosities.

"The outdoor life has never palled on you, then?"

"There is a strange question. I can't see how outdoor life would ever pall on anyone. When at home, I am almost in a heaven of delight. We have a small kennel there, but all of the dogs are so handsome and interesting!

CIRCUS WILL ATTRACT A LARGE CROWD THIS EVENING.

The Photo Shows are in this city and the first performance was given this afternoon. The big tents are up and the many performers are active about the big tents.

There are many points of interest in a big show which are hardly thought of by the casual visitors. There is an immense blacksmith shop with five smiths who are kept busy shoeing the horses, and repairing various bits of paraphernalia. Then there is a barber shop, and the cook tent, and the dressing-rooms—all of which are so necessary to the success of a big show and yet so little thought of by the outsider.

The parade this morning was very entertaining and quite a number of people turned out to see it, despite the chill in the air.

Indications are that the shows will be well attended, and that the stay in this city will prove to be a success.

At the great Water Carnival in Germany every year, a feature of the festival is always furnished by the rival animal dealers in the Old World.

The diving elephants are the supreme card of interest at this festival. Captain Henry Amberg, foreign agent for the Great Photo Shows, on his last visit, secured six of the most famous elephants at this meeting. The original cost and expense of transportation ran into the thousands.

While the shows are here, if the water is of the proper temperature and the wind is not too strong, the great double herd of Photo elephants will be given bath in a pond near the show grounds. Great care must be taken on these occasions, and the keepers are continuously on the alert to see that the water is not too hot or too cold. The elephants are given a tonic, just as Tribby took a notion to swim to Omaha and the commands of the keepers were of no avail, it became necessary to hire a tug boat and chase her back to the herd. Then the plot thickened, the elephants all absolutely refused to return to the banks.

But an elephant trainer knows their habits and promptly got them brought over a couple of canoes and caused them to give forth unheard-of sounds, which aroused the curiosity of the elephants and they all came trumpeting to the shore, where Tribby was waiting. The elephants were then given a good licking with a buggy whip that only tickled her the more because she had enjoyed such a good time.

ROBBERS IN EVENING DRESS

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—As the Rathskeller in the Portland Hotel was being closed, early this morning, three men in full evening dress and wearing diamond jewelry stepped up to the cashier's desk ostensibly to settle for refreshments. One of the trio attracted the cashier's attention, while another reached over the desk and seized $135 from the cash drawer. The three darted upstairs, pursued by Night Watchman Nicholson, who witnessed the theft. Nicholson overtook the men on the fourth floor of the hotel, where he captured two of them, the third making his escape by means of the fire escape.

At the police station the men gave their names as G. H. Hanlon and J. S. Stafford. About $100 was found on them.

NATURE'S ESSENCE.

Extracted From Forest Plants.

Go straight back to Nature for your health. There is your strength. Consider your body as an engine which supplies you with all activity, mind and body. Keep the machinery well oiled and it runs smoothly. It does not grind nor groan in the doing of its work. But let the stomach, which is the safety valve to the human engine get out of order and you soon meet with disaster. The product of undigested and decomposing food is poison to the system. We do not live on what we eat but on what we digest, assimilate, and take up in the blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves, the heart, and all goes well with us if the human filter within us does not get clogged up, if poisons do not accumulate in the body from over-eating indigestible food, over-drinking, heating, alcoholic beverages or hurriedly doing both. The smash-up occurs when the blood is poisoned by the stomach and liver being unable to take care of the overload. The red flag of danger is thrown out in the shape of eruptions on the skin, or nervousness and sleeplessness, which become constant because the nerves are starved and the person feels blue, despondent and irritable. Nature's laws are perfect if we obey them, but disease follows disobedience. Go straight to nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries there that we can fathom for you. Take the bark of the wild cherry tree, the root of mandrake, stone root, sassafras, blood root and golden seal, make a scientific, non-alcoholic extract of them with just the right proportions and you have Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists, eight years of hard work experimenting to make this vegetable extract and alterative of the greatest efficiency.

Just the sort of spring remedy you need to make rich, red blood, and cure that lassitude and feeling of nerve exhaustion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery bears the stamp of public approval and has sold more largely in the past forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, and a physician of large experience and practice, was the first to make up an alterative extract of roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of alcohol or narcotics, which purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution our stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" after a long, hard winter; in consequence our blood is disordered for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich arterial blood, that is circulating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and feeling "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful.

BRACE UP WEAK BOYS

University Students of Slight Physique Must Take Gym Work.

BERKELEY, May 1.—Beginning with next term of the University of California, students who are excused from military drill on account of physical inability will be required to devote that hour to work in the gymnasium. This rule was decided by a joint meeting of the committees on military science and gymnasium.

In the past students have been excused from the regular military drill by a written excuse from a physician stating that the student is physically unable to do violent exercise and with the consent of the professor of military science. But in the future for those excused from drill gymnasium work will be substituted, and this will make a less incentive for students to be excused from drill.

NEGRO WOMEN BEING ROBBED

NEW YORK, May 1.—At a mass meeting in the cause of negro education, here, addresses were made by Professor H. Y. Arnott, financial secretary of Wilberforce University and the Rev. R. D. Stinson, Commissioner of Morris Brown College of Atlanta, Ga.

Some of the local speakers denounced the methods of employment agencies here. They asserted that of the twenty-five concerns engaged in importing female colored servants from the South, very few were conducted honestly. If the negro woman had any money, it was declared they were compelled to turn it over to the agencies and when the secured positions here were forced under a written agreement to turn over their earnings for two months in addition to paying their fare from the South.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquezone and Give it to You to Try.

We want you to know about Liquezone, and the product itself can tell you more than we. So we ask you to let us buy you a bottle—a full-size bottle—to try. Let it prove that it does what medicine cannot do. See what a tonic it is. Learn that it does fill germs. Then you will use it all ways as we do, and as millions of others do.

This offer itself should convince you that Liquezone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you if there was any doubt of results. You want those results; you want to be well and to keep well. And you can't do that—nobody can—without Liquezone.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquezone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquezone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquezone has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor with alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—of a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. The effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

There lies the great value of Liquezone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Asthma Abscess—Anemia Bronchitis Blood Poison Bright's Disease Bowel Troubles Coughs—Colds Consumption Colic—Croup Catarrh—Cancer Constipation Catarrh—Cancer Dysentery—Diarrhea Hay Fever—Influenza Kidney Diseases La Grippe Leucorrhea Liver Troubles Malaria—Neuritis Many Heart Troubles Piles—Pneumonia Pleurisy—Quinsy Rheumatism Scrofula Syphilis Skin Diseases Dandruff—Dropsy Dropsy—Dyspepsia Eczema—Dry Pimples Fevers—Gall Stones Gout Gonorrhea—Gleet Stomach Troubles Throat Troubles Tuberculosis Tumors—Ulcers Varicose Women's Diseases

All diseases that begin with fever—ah inflammation—all catarrh—all contagious diseases—all the results of impure or poisoned blood.

In nervous debility Liquezone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing what no drugs can do.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

W. E. DARGIE, President
Business Office and Publishing House, 413-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

Oakland's Sanitary Garbage System

Oakland is getting a deal of favorable mention abroad because of the sanitary method of collecting and incinerating garbage recently inaugurated here. On April 6th the New York Tribune published a lengthy illustrated article describing the method of garbage disposal in vogue here, and followed it up on April 11th with an editorial calling attention to the advantages of the Oakland system, from which we quote the following extract.

"A reform which has been instituted in Oakland, Cal., and which is described by 'Engineering News,' shows that the East has something to learn from the West. A method of collecting garbage has been adopted in the city just named that is a vast improvement on the one in vogue in New York and many other places. Kitchen refuse, kept separate from ashes, is here put in a metal can, which at stated intervals is placed on the sidewalk in front of the house in which it has accumulated. The contents are emptied into a cart on certain days of the week, and as the receptacle is rarely cleaned the material which adheres to the interior of the can has a chance to decompose. In consequence the next charge which it receives is liable to become particularly offensive, especially in summer; and as hours may elapse while it stands on the street passersby are exposed to a sickening experience. Now, in Oakland the cans are carried from the sidewalk to the place of final disposal of the garbage. A wagon is in service there which accommodates fifty ten gallon cans. Finally, each of the latter is provided with a tightly fitting cover, and before being returned it is washed and sterilized. To spare the sensibilities and health of the public in this manner, it must be admitted, is a practice worthy of the widest imitation."

Some friction has been caused in putting the new system in operation here, but it mostly resulted from unfamiliarity with the method and disinclination to change old ways. Besides, all radical changes cause more or less friction. So far as the system established here is concerned, it has been demonstrated to be all that has been claimed for it. Its superiority over all other methods of garbage disposal is unquestioned, and it is not expensive if understood and rightly handled. Nevertheless it can only be made a complete success in every particular by the cordial co-operation of the householders and the health officials with the incinerating company. In nine cases out of ten the complaints come from householders who have themselves neglected or refused to follow the rules prescribed in the ordinance regulating the collection and disposal of garbage. Many persons refuse to inform themselves regarding the rules, and a few perversely try to make trouble, being rooted to old custom and jealous of any innovation. The health authorities, too, make a mistake in treating the complaints as matters to be settled between the householders and the incinerating company. The latter is operating under a definite contract with the city, and it is the duty of the health authorities to see that the householders and the incinerating company live up strictly to the conditions prescribed in the contract. In cases of dispute there must be some designated authority to investigate and decide.

The charge that the Schmitz administration is responsible for the Smith defalcation lacks point. Smith was politically antagonistic to Schmitz, having been elected on the Republican ticket. When Treasurer Widber proved to be a defaulter an attempt was made to hold Mayor Phelan responsible for it, but it failed with all sensible people. Many sins are to be laid at the door of the Schmitz regime, but it cannot be rightfully charged up with the dishonesty of Tax Collector Smith.

A Unique Compliment to Burbank.

In the Sunset Magazine for May appears the following invocation to Luther Burbank by Charles J. Woodbury of Oakland.

"Lord of the Earth, give us a sign,
Turn thy Heart's fruitage to our ken,
Let us behold the hidden wine
Hitherto hid from eyes of men."
Called thus the worldlings to their God,
And straightway there arose a man,
Born to interpret soil and sod,
Burning with love for God's own plan.
Far and profound his calm eye saw
The beauties hid in froth and seed.
His hand brought life, the newer law,
His hand transformed the dream to deed,
The balked bud was forever freed.

Mr. Woodbury wrote this bit of verse on a freak basis. Taking the first letter of the first line, the second letter of the second line and the third letter of the third line, the first six lines yield the word "Luther" and the other seven the word "Burbank." When the purpose of the phrasing is understood, the aptness of the lines to the subject and the hidden compliment they were intended to pay can readily be appreciated.

Joseph Jefferson could not be called a "poor player ranting his brief hour on the stage." His estate is worth between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. And he was only an actor, too, and didn't belong to the theatrical trust. Some facts are stranger than fiction.

The imperial edict granting freedom of worship throughout the Russian empire is one of the benefits civilization and religious liberty have gained as a result of the disasters the Czar's armies have encountered during the Manchurian war. How far in spirit the edict of the Czar will go is a question, but the edict itself is a tremendous concession to the discontent at home caused by defeats abroad. It is a virtual abdication of the Russian autocrat's pretense of being the spiritual father of his subjects. This abdication is the fruit of Japanese victory. The arms of heathen Japan have therefore given a larger share of religious freedom to the Christian sectaries and Jews of Russia. Mankind always gains when the power of tyranny is shattered.

The Proposed State Bridge.

The proposition for the State to build a bridge across Carquinez Straits for the accommodation of all classes of traffic, including railroad trains, is not a practical suggestion. The Southern Pacific is the only railroad that crosses the straits. As the Southern Pacific owns or commands all the approaches to the proposed bridge, it does not require much perspicacity to enable one to perceive that if the State should build a bridge across the straits it would be used almost exclusively by the Southern Pacific. Railroad companies are not going to build lines to Benicia and Port Costa merely to make use of a State-built bridge. There must be some other more potent inducement. Railroads must start from some place and go somewhere; must be constructed to accommodate and develop traffic. Lines to Carquinez from Oakland and Sacramento would have to parallel the Southern Pacific all the way.

However, the suggestion lacks practical force for other reasons. A State bridge could only be built by submitting a bond issue to popular vote, which would have to be authorized by the Legislature. The Legislature will not meet again till January, 1907, and a popular vote could not be taken till November, 1908—that is, unless a special election were called, which is hardly to be considered. Thus the work of constructing a State bridge, admitting that it will be authorized by the people, cannot begin until some time in 1909, four years hence. A bridge across the straits is an immediate necessity. At the same time the Santa Fe is anxious to build a bridge across Suisun bay to give it a short line to Sacramento. A State viaduct at Carquinez would do the Santa Fe no good.

The better way is to let the railroads build their own bridges, providing always that the bridges are so constructed as not to obstruct navigation or seriously impede the discharge of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

Thomas W. Lawson is talking apprehensively of an impending panic. Apparently he is planning another raid on Wall street.

YOUTH DROWNS IN BATHS

BODY OF CARL OLSON FOUND YESTERDAY IN PIEDMONT TANK.

While bathing at the Piedmont baths yesterday, J. Jackson of 400 Orange street found the body of a young boy lying on its face in eight feet of water. The body, when it was removed to the bath house, was identified by Harold Blake, Herbert McCaw, and Hugh Hamlin as that of Carl Olson of 208 Telegraph avenue.

It is thought the boy came down the chute, colliding with another swimmer, thus knocking the breath out of his body. It is evident that he drowned without anyone noticing his plight. Dr. Cunningham was called as soon as the body was discovered, but life was already extinct, no amount of medical aid was of any avail. The only mark on the body was a slight abrasion on the bridge of the nose, which might have been caused by contact with the cement floor of the pool.

When the Girl is ready. And the keys begin to sing. With a pretty pile of gold. She to the Man will bring.

The Man is in his sanctum. Trying to make money. Talking to a customer. In tones as sweet as honey.

The Boy? Ah, he's a pirate. Out on a stormy sea. The Girl is busy with her work. As happy as can be.

Alas for life's swift changes! The Man no sale could make. His heart is very heavy. And his looks would make you quake.

The Boy has hid the story. Which he found out. The Girl is on the verge of tears— She cannot read her notes. —"C. O. L." in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

FABLE OF THE HEN.

(From the Boston Post.) Once upon a time (very recently) a hen went upon a strike and refused to lay. Other hens followed her example, and the security of hen fruit which resulted caused eggs to retail for something like 50 cents per dozen. In other words, strictly fresh eggs laid by scab hens were worth about 5 cents each in the shell. Even cold storage eggs which were dearest explosive and had to be handled with care brought 30 cents.

The people got together and remonstrated with the hens, but it did no good. Finally an arbitration committee waited on the hens and tried to persuade them to go back to work. The arbitration committee pointed out that only the rich could afford to eat eggs, but the hens refused to return to work. The arbitration committee then told the hens that if they persisted in the strike they would bring race suicide on themselves.

Then a wise old hen arose and spoke as follows: "In the spring when us hens wish to sit the people give us porcelain doorknobs to sit on. If the porcelain doorknobs are as good as eggs to sit on, they ought to be as good to eat as eggs. Tell the people to eat porcelain doorknobs."

The arbitration committee could not answer this argument, and departed in tears. Moral—Deceit will come home to roost.

"GIMLETS" BORED THEM. Though Robert W. Chambers is a popular author, he will rarely talk about his books.

"I hate literary conceit," he said the other day. "If an architect builds a good house, his friends on account of it don't regard him as a god, and he doesn't regard himself as a god. The same with an engineer. If he builds a good bridge, it is in the day's work, and that is all there is about it. But if a man writes a good book, why, then, there must be genius in him, and before this genius he himself, as well as all the world, must bow down. Rot. 'Literary conceit' is distasteful to me," Mr. Chambers said, "and I like to see it taken down. It was well taken down in the case of a New York man last month. He has written a novel, 'Gimlets,' and the public libraries have put this book on their shelves. The man called at one of the libraries to find out how his work was going with the public. He hoped to have his vanity tickled a little.

"Is 'Gimlets' in?" he said to the librarian.

"It never was out," was the reply."

THE WHITTIER.

One day a stranger stroiled into the old Berry Tavern at Danvers. A number of men were seated in the office, and were asked by the newcomer: "Will you kindly tell me where I may find the Whittier House?"

A young business man, not a native of the town, to be sure, but who had lived in it a number of years and belonged to New England, spoke up, saying: "You mean Joe Whittier, the contractor? He lives at Davensport."

"No, no; I refer to John G. Whittier."

"John G. Whittier? Never heard of him. The only other Whittier in this town is Clarence Whittier, janitor of the Town House. He lives on Essex street."

The stranger became both amused and impatient and said: "I am talking about John G. Whittier, the poet; he's dead, you know. I want to find out where his home was."

"Oh, well," said the young business man, with a sigh of relief at his ability to impart information, "if it's anybody who's dead go right over to Will Crosby, the undertaker, across the street; he'll tell you all about it."—Boston Herald.

WILES AND GILES OF WOMEN. (From an Exchange.)

Japanese Beauty Why She is Attracting the Attention of All Art Critics.

NEW YORK, May 1.—All hail the Japanese beauty. She has stepped into the limelight as an attractive piece of femininity and she holds her own in the very center of the beauty stage. She is winsome, delightful, wholesome, and even, in certain types, classic.

Art critics the world over are unanimous in their praise of the Japanese girl. There is something about her which is extremely catchy. Just what it is you can scarcely say. Yet there is a certain beauty which you cannot help admiring.

"Why is the Japanese girl attractive?" was the question put to a dozen art critics.

And to this query there came the following replies:

"She is neat."

"She is exquisitely feminine."

"She is beautifully colored, her cheeks and lips, hair and eyes afford a variety and a study in contrasts."

Others replied:

"She is attractive because she is always smiling. No one ever saw her out of temper."

"She is attractive because her hair is always dressed quaintly and becomingly."

"She is attractive because of her picturesque garb, which becomes her so well."

"She is attractive because so small, so dainty, so slender, so almost diminutive in stature and in general build, though well proportioned."

"She is attractive because of her painstaking. Imagine her with dirty kimono, unkempt hair, unpleasant teeth and dull eyes! Impossible!"

But it remained for one critic to hit the nail upon the head. "The Japanese woman," said he, "is charming because she is mistress of all the beauty arts. They were hers centuries before the Christian era, and she has neither added to them nor subtracted from them. She uses them, not occasionally, but all the time. She is 'made up,' as you say, from early morn until late at night."

And this, perhaps, is the secret of the little Japanese girl's wonderful attractiveness. She is always trim, always "fit," always made up, always well dressed, always the grand little lady. She is never slovenly, never untidy, never badly gotten up, never thoughtlessly put together.

And the Japanese man appreciates this as well as the American. And, if the day ever comes when American customs invade Japan, it will be found that the Japanese man lives like a king in his own home, that he has for a queen the daintiest, prettiest, sweetest woman in the world, a woman who is always trying to please her "honorable lord."

The Japanese girl very early in life for she matures young, is taught to please her "honorable parents." She has the American equivalent of a waiting maid before she is well in her teens, and this maid soon teaches her the beauty arts which made her mother a beauty and her grandmother before her.

One of these is the trick of being neat. Neatness is a peculiar art, a study, almost a gift. And the girl who learns it early in life will have mastered one of the most charming of personal characteristics. Neatness is not a thing to be put off and on. It is a quality which belongs to certain people, but it is impossible in others.

The Japanese girl is exquisitely neat. Her little garments are absolutely clean, as clean as many washings and frequent airings and chakings can make them. She wears a silk gown that may be half a century old, but it is so carefully kept that it looks as though just from the hands of the embroiderer. She cares little for new clothing, for she has the art of making her old clothes look like new, and that is everything to her.

Each day the little Japanese girl goes over her clothing. Spots are taken out, stitches are put in, bad places are mended and wonderful patching and marvelous embroidery cover up the worn places. When she is not embroidering or mending or patching or cleaning, the little Japanese woman is either painting or carving, for she decorated the beautiful string of beads and wonderful enamel and brilliant leathers which she wears, and it is part of her habit of neatness to put in her spare moments making these articles for herself. She is absolutely economical, and no Japanese man was ever ruined by his wife's extravagance.

The Japanese woman is never idle. She is not a great eater, but she puts in a great many minutes of her day preparing her own food. She knows how to cook rice; she can brew her own tea. And, on her knees in front of her dainty little tea tray, she prepares her cup of amber-colored nectar and sets forth the little feast for herself and her honorable guests.

To call it work seems sacrilege, but it is a fact that the dainty fingers of the little Japanese girl are always busy and that she does a deal of housework. No matter what her station or how many servants she may have at her beck and call, she is occupied all the time.

The Japanese woman is very slender. You do not find many stout Japanese girls nor many stout matrons. Even in old age they keep their shape for their diet is such that it does not form fat. The Japanese girl eats tiny birds, she eats chicken, she is fond of fish and she lives on rice. As for beef and mutton, she does not have a great deal of this meat to eat. Rice is her staple, rice and tea, and she greatly enjoys both of them.

The Japanese girl would think it a great disgrace to put on fat. And to keep fat at bay she resorts to many methods, one of which is dancing. She dances in cunning little steps, she swings the air with her arms, thus getting her physical culture exercises without sacrificing her grace.

Just what the Japanese beauty would do in a gymnasium costume, with a punching bag before her, is a question. She would surely be dismayed at the idea of tackling it. She would say that it would make her awkward, that it would never in the world do to have any one see her in such an unattractive garb, doing such an unattractive, unfeminine thing as punching a bag.

But, on the other hand, the Japanese beauty does not need the gymnasium suit and the punching bag. She never ruins her complexion with rich foods. She does not know what it is to lie all day in a steam-heated apartment reading a novel and eating rich candy and cake. At early dawn her windows are open, and she is out gathering flowers. For what would a Japanese home be without plants and flowers! And by noon she has brewed her tea, cooked her rice and begun her embroidery.

WAITER WAITS FOR 12 YEARS FOR SWEETHEART AND $35,000

NEW YORK, May 1.—Like a chapter from a novel is the experience of Thomas Smith, who in a few months will return to Ireland to claim the sweetheart of his youth and an inheritance of $35,000. He was banished from his sweetheart twelve years ago by his father, and came to this country. "I'm not impatient for the money," Smith said last night in the hotel on Sixth avenue where he is employed as waiter. "It was not so when first I came here, but I managed to win out, and here I am with a little money laid aside, and the happy prospect of returning soon to wed the girl who has waited like an angel for me during all these years of hardship and privation."

Smith's father was a woolen merchant in Dublin, and to his son he boasted of having once ridden to the hounds with the then Prince of Wales, now Edward VII. The uncompromising sectarianism of the family's religious training forbade the son's marriage to a Scotch lassie of Presbyterian faith and brought about the banishment of the young man to America. The father died a year ago, and a few days ago Smith received a letter from a Dublin lawyer. It told him of his father's death and of a second letter which is to follow with a draft for $1000.

"I believe my share of the estate is about $35,000," Smith said yesterday. "I'll live the rest of my life in the old country and nothing again will separate my sweetheart and me after she becomes my wife next October. I am making arrangements now for the wedding, and will return home in a few months."

Woman from the days of Eve has ever played the hypocrite to others—and to herself—Rita. AGAINST THE SMART SET

LONDON, May 1.—"This is a book of women, for women, by a woman. They may hate it for its truth, but each and all in their 'looking-glass' hours will acknowledge that it is true. For his own sake and for the sake of some cherished illusions, no 'modern man' should be bold enough to read it."

With this uncompromising preface "Rita" begins her new novel, "Queen Lady Judas."

The story concerns the experiences of a lady who, having been deserted by her husband, endeavors to make a living by becoming a face specialist.

In this capacity she becomes the confidant of half the fashionable women in London, and gains an insight into their extremely discreditable private affairs, and "Rita" finds the opportunity for some of her characteristic and scathing diatribes against the "smart set."

These women, according to "Rita," for the sake of a smile from royalty, a word from the favorite lion of the hour, a jewel whose sale is chronicled in a gown that no other gown can touch for costliness, sell their names, their lineage, their bodies and their souls.

"It was only the sober-minded middle-class woman who was 'good,' who was domestic and who reckoned the natural duties of wife and mother as the highest prerogatives of sex. Her high-born sisterhood laughed her to scorn. For them life meant an eternal round of excitement and of pleasure, lavish expenditure, being 'in the swim' of all that was fast and reckless and reprehensible."

Again, a few pages further on: "Foremost in the ranks of noisy progress stood woman. Woman, emancipated, triumphant, blatant. Woman, parading herself and her wants and her vanities with ever-increasing volubility. Woman, less content with what she had achieved than desirous of increasing her achievements. Woman, restless, pleasure-loving, vain."

"Woman from the days of Eve has ever played the hypocrite to others—and to herself; and in her desire to be worshiped and adored has rushed wildly from the extremes of so-called virtue to the extremes of so-called vice."

After this it seems rather unnecessarily modest for "Rita" to express her inability "to make a holocaust of all the crime and immorality that run riot in society."

LIFE ON A FARM HAS NO JOYS FOR THIS WOMAN.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 1.—Life on a dairy farm is not one long dream of joy and bliss, according to the complaint for divorce filed in the Superior Court by Louisa Bernhardt. She alleges that she has managed and operated the dairy and has been making a living for herself and family, including a husband, George Bernhardt, while he refuses to work and will only read the papers and visit saloons and roadhouses. She further says he is lazy and worthless.

For nearly thirty years they have been married, and in that time has accumulated considerable valuable property, which Mrs. Bernhardt says rightfully belongs to her, since she earned the money with which it was purchased. She says, in her complaint, that she milked the cows and for twenty-five years, in season and out of season, and day and night, has driven the milk wagon. In return, she says, her sole reward has been frequent abuse, black eyes and a bruised body.

Upon one occasion, she charges, when she returned after being out with the milk wagon all day and half the night, she was locked out by her husband, who compelled her to sleep in the barn.

PRISON FOR UNFAITHFUL HUSBANDS AND WIVES.

Bill Proposed in Germany Would Also Treat Killing in a Duel as Murder.

BERLIN, May 1.—The Anti-duelling League is endeavoring to strike at the causes of duels, and urges the Government to support a bill providing for the punishment of unfaithful husbands and wives with imprisonment of from six to twenty-four months; for the punishment of persons who untruthfully assert that a woman has been unfaithful to her husband, and for the punishment with imprisonment, instead of by a fine alone, of a man who insults another or who libels him. It also provides that killing in a duel shall be treated as murder and all who participate in a duel as criminals, as under the ordinary code.

AMBITION. When vernal sunshine sweeps the scene, Ambition thrives anew. Full many are the things, I ween, I started out to do. The sands of time within the glass "Flow fast and never stop. 'Tis years since I set out, alas! To learn to spin a top. I wound it carefully with string. I hurried it to the pave. It bounded like a living thing Full bent to mischief. A window snapped—a stranger snatched— In constant fear of being thrashed I strove to spin a top. How gracefully for other boys It glided through the air! How sweetly soothing was its noise As it stood humming there! 'Twas then I learned how often pride Is doomed to take a drop. I tried and failed and failed and tried To learn to spin a top.

In spite of wealth and fame that spread Allurements more mature, When skies grow bluer overhead And song birds thrill secure, And all the world is fair with youth, I scorn the garnered crop Of worldly things—to tell the truth It like to spin a top.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the world of society. And in stores, mills and about ten of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drags them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, leucorrhoea, or perhaps irregularity or suppression of "monthly periods," causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

Women who stand on their feet all day are more susceptible to these troubles than others.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser of 14 Warrenton Street, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I suffered miserably for several years with irregular menstruation. My back ached; I had bearing down pains, and frequent headaches; I could not sleep and could hardly drag around. I consulted two physicians without relief, and as a last resort, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to my surprise, every ache and pain left me. I gained ten pounds and am in perfect health.

Miss Pearl Ackers of 327 North Summer Street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen; was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month. A physician failed to help me and I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and no longer fear my monthly periods.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

ORPHEUS CLUB CONCERT

PROMINENT MUSICAL ORGANIZATION PLANS PROGRAM FOR MAY 16.

Within the past few days notices have been sent out by the Orpheus Club to its subscribing members announcing the reorganization of Oakland's most prominent musical club on broader and better lines, than have ever been attempted heretofore.

It is but a short time, two seasons, since the club was compelled to move from the Unitarian Church to the Macdonough Theater because the former was not large enough to hold the audiences at the club concerts and so even the Macdonough has proven too small and the inaugural concert of this season, the twelfth of the club's history, is to be held May 16th at the Liberty, which will afford ample room.

As may be imagined this change and the engagement of noted artists as the soloists at each concert will mean a large increase in expenses and the gentlemen of the club, which now numbers sixty voices, are making every effort to enlist a large additional associate membership.

From a society point of view the three Orpheus concerts of this year will be by far the most important events in Oakland and the move to the Liberty has enlisted much support from those whose stamp of approval on the artistic means so much for its support.

Every effort is being made by Edwin Dunbar, Grandall, the club's director, to make it fully worthy of the name which it has attained as the best organization of its kind west of Chicago and to this end arrangements have been made whereby the soloists at each concert will be the best that can be obtained on this coast or from the East.

Arrangements have been made by which Will L. Greenbaum, the San Francisco pianist, will secure the soloists for the club's concerts—a guarantee of their high standing.

The officers selected recently by the club for the management of its affairs during the coming season are as follows: President, George C. Collins; vice president, Dr. Harry P. Carlton; secretary, Arthur W. Moore; treasurer, P. S. Carlton; historian, H. K. Snow; and auditing committee, J. E. Dean, Jesse McCargar, and Charles Harris, the secretary, Mr. Moore, may be found at the Oakland Bank of Savings.

IMPORTANT CONSOLIDATION

Two of San Francisco's Largest Financial Institutions Unite Their Forces.

Renters' Loan and Trust Company and Standard Loan and Trust Company Consolidate.

Concurrent with the consolidation of the Nevada Bank and Wells Fargo's, the absorption of the London and Liverpool bank by the Bank of California and the consolidation of several of the large Tonopah mining companies, comes the news that two important financial and savings institutions have united their energies as well as their business and capital.

The Renters' Loan and Trust Company and the Standard Loan and Trust Company, two of the strongest companies on the coast, doing an installment loan business, have concluded to unite their forces in the future. The business will be conducted under the title of the Renters' Loan and Trust Company of San Francisco. The consolidation will make the new company the strongest of its kind in California.

The Renters' previous to the consolidation had been the instrument whereby over 3,000 homes have been built in California during the past fifteen years.

The Standard, while a much younger institution, has built up a business of very large proportions. By means of the amalgamation of the two forces, the continuing company will have a working capital of about $2,000,000.00.

During the history of the two companies not a murmur of discord has been heard either in the columns of the press or otherwise, regarding the management or the treatment of the patrons and depositors have received.

The directorate of the consolidated companies, which is as strong as that of any financial institution in the West, is as follows: Geo. M. Perine, one of San Francisco's most respected capitalists; Capt. W. H. Marston, one of Berkeley's best known capitalists, a director in the First National Bank of Berkeley, and in the Seaboard National Bank of San Francisco. He is also one of the trustees of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Samuel Sussman, senior member of the firm of Sussman, Wormser & Company, one of the largest wholesale grocery firms on the Pacific Coast. Louis Fischbeck, general manager of the New England Soap Company, the largest of its kind west of Chicago.

W. A. Boole, president of W. A. Boole & Son, Incorporated, operating the enormous shipbuilding and dry-dock-plant on the Oakland estuary. J. H. Mallet Jr., formerly of the Pioneer Mantel Manufacturing firm of Bush & Mallet Company, and R. T. Harding, of Harding & Sargent, one of San Francisco's leading law firms.

A stronger body of men of business affairs could not be found anywhere. Geo. M. Perine, under whose executive management the Renters grew from a small company to its present large proportions, will continue to act as president. Captain W. H. Marston, the president of the Standard, first vice-president; J. H. Mallet Jr., second vice-president, and Grant Cordey, secretary. R. Carlton Knight, under whose management the Standard grew so rapidly in such a short space of time, will be the manager, and R. T. Harding and Walker C. Graves, the attorneys.

WILL FOR PROBATE. Petition for the probate of the will of the late Johanna L. Muller filed by Richard Finking of San Francisco who is mentioned as the executor in the will. The deceased leaves her estate amounting to about $1,500 to her two nephews, Joseph and David Helg. She states that she leaves nothing to her brother as he is well provided for.

STOLE THE FURNITURE. E. J. Stewart, a real estate agent, who had charge of a furnished house at 541 Alhambra street, reported to the police that some person or persons had stolen all the furniture during the last ten days. Mr. Stewart is attempting to locate the furniture now and ascertain who the guilty parties were.

APPENDICITIS CURED WITHOUT AN OPERATION. A splinter in the finger produces inflammation, but we do not cut off the finger; we remove the splinter.

An intestinal obstruction produces APPENDICITIS, which is an intestinal inflammation. FRUITOLA removes the obstruction; the inflammation subsides; one dose will prove this and remove all necessity for an operation, which is both expensive and dangerous.

CRACKER BOX IS "THE FINANCIER" BABE'S HOME TONIGHT

LITTLE ONE MAKING A FIGHT FOR LIFE IN NOVEL INCUBATOR.

Minnie Dormann Anderson, the five-week-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Anderson of San Pablo, is making a brave fight for life in an incubator which was improvised from a cracker box.

At birth the little one weighed but three pounds and was frail and delicate. Dr. J. Abbott of Richmond, who attended the mother, suggested that an incubator should be made of the cracker box, and into this box, which was lined with soft blankets and kept warm by hot water bags, the little daughter was placed. The temperature is kept at from 85 to 94 degrees, and the constant care of the mother and nurse has been rewarded by the fact that the little one has gained three pounds in weight and bids fair to be strong enough soon to be taken out of her incubator home.

The little one is regarded by the neighbors in the light of a curiosity and a lively interest is being taken in the outcome of the case.

Instead of the big English picture hat it is the smaller, saucier and most picturesque French hat.

JUDGE SPEAKS FROM A METHODIST PULPIT.

Berkeley Jurist Tells Churchmen Their Responsibilities For "The Prisoners."

BERKELEY, May 1.—A crowded house greeted Judge William H. Waste when he arose last night to deliver an address in the First Methodist Church on the "Responsibility of the Church for the Prisoner." The criminal cases in the Superior Court fall for the most part to Judge Waste for consideration, and his position therefore, with that experience as a legislator he has had for many years, qualified him to discuss with authority a subject that is of interest to the public.

Judge Waste, in his opening remarks, analyzed the topic and drew a vivid picture, as he said, "from real life." He used the census of inmates of the various penal and reformatory State institutions in California as the basis of the illustration. He briefly described the attitude of the State toward the criminal class and its method of treating prisoners.

The revelations made to the State Legislature by the special committee to investigate and report on the penal institutions of California, referred to and the condition of affairs and treatment of prisoners was denounced by the Judge as "a disgrace to civilization and a blot on the fair escutcheon of California."

Three periods of responsibility for the prisoner were discussed—before prison, in prison and after prison.

Judge Waste said in part: "Before prison the responsibility lies largely in permitting that condition of affairs which produces the criminal. The most influential force of society is the church and its allied organizations. The responsibility of the church there is paramount. The old question, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' will not do. Some pertinent questions must be answered. Who is responsible for the overcrowding and bad sanitation of many portions of our large cities? Who is responsible for the children of the poor and of the criminal must spend their time on the crowded sidewalk or in the narrow street of the tenement district, and have no pleasant park or children's playground in which to sport? Who is responsible if these children grow up

College Girl to Wed Divinity Student —Miss Snow's Engagement Announced.

MISS BEATRICE SNOW

BERKELEY, May 1.—College circles are greatly interested in an announcement that has just been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Beatrice Snow and Earl H. McCollister. The engagement of these well-known University young people constitutes a romance of the sort that appeals to those who enjoy seeing kindred spirits meet and finally unite in union that is intended to be for life, under auspices most favorable in every way.

Miss Snow is a graduate of the class of 1904, and has been prominent during her college days as a member of the Mask and Dagger Society, an organization that interests itself in dramatic productions. She was also concerned with Y. W. C. A. work and in other ways achieved distinction. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Snow of Portland, Or.

Miss Snow is to be the bride of an Episcopal minister, when Mr. McCollister finally takes orders. He is now a divinity student at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, an Episcopal institution at San Mateo. Mr. McCollister graduated from the University in 1903. He was prominent in college journalism as a debater and a member of the Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity. He came from Santa Barbara to the University and made the acquaintance of his future bride at college here.

MURDER NEARLY RESULTS

WILLIE SILVA MAKES ATTACK ON VICTORIA RAMOS AT SAN LEANDRO.

SAN LEANDRO, May 1.—A case of battery that almost resulted in murder occurred here Friday afternoon. Victoria Ramos is the victim's name. The crime is alleged to have been committed by Willie Silva, a Portuguese resident here. The latter is imprisoned in the county jail awaiting trial.

It is said that Silva, who has several times been arrested on various charges, struck the other in the face, causing him to fall against the corner of a block of concrete. Frank Williams rode to town on a bicycle and informed Marshal Geisenhoffer of the occurrence. The officer immediately proceeded to the scene of the attack which took place on Davis street near the depot, and arrested Silva, who admitted having done the deed, stating that Ramos had called him names.

There were four witnesses to the attack. J. B. Mello, A. F. Silva, Joe Martinez and Rafaela Fran. When the officer reached the scene he found Ramos still in an unconscious condition. Dr. Chas. Miller was called and succeeded in bringing him out of his trance in a short time. There is a deep gash in the left side of his head.

CONFIRM CHILDREN.

Archbishop Montgomery administered the sacrament of confirmation to a large number of the children of the parish yesterday. Alfred Quadros and Miss Agnes Peachy acted as sponsors.

There were present a number of the Catholic clergy from the adjoining parishes. H. Garcia, of the parish of Santa Barbara.

"SOPH" A WINNER

Brice Historical Prize Awarded to Julius Klein at the University.

BERKELEY, May 1.—The announcement that Julius Klein, '04, has been awarded the Brice prize of $100 has been made. The prize was offered by Regent Tausig, president of the Mark Hopkins Institute, in the name of the Hon. James Bryce of whom he is a great admirer. The subject announced last year was "The Making of the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848." Before the first of this month the essays were to be filed with the secretary, only designated by a distinctive mark which was to correspond to the name of the author.

The verdict of Professors Moses and Stephens was unanimous, and it was unnecessary to wait for the decision of the jury. Besides the award given Mr. Klein, honorable mention was made of the essay submitted by D. R. Buckner, '05.

The only condition requisite was that the author be a student of the university. Mr. Bryce, in whose honor the award was made, is the English author of the "American Commonwealth," one of the best expositions of our system of government, besides serving with distinction in Parliament. Mr. Bryce was perhaps the most popular of all the foreigners who attended the St. Louis exposition. This prize of Regent Tausig's was merely made for the current year.

AN ALPHABETICAL MARVEL. Little Irma had been on an excursion to her father's down-town office and for the first time a typewriter in use. "Oh mamma, she said on her return home, 'don't you know, I saw the funniest sewing-machine down to papa's office. It sewed A. B. C.'"

THIEF PROVES TO BE AN EX-CONVICT.

Entered Fritsche Home Carrying Off Jewelry and is Caught Across the Bay.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—The burglar who entered the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fritsche at 1432 Benton street last Thursday night and secured two gold watches and other jewelry worth over $250, and cash to the amount of $75, has been captured, and proves to be an ex-convict named C. D. Lowrie, who was released from San Quentin only a fortnight ago.

The prisoner was arrested in San Francisco by Detective Bonner, and will be brought to the Alameda City Prison today, a complaint against him having been sworn to by Mr. Fritsche before Justice of the Peace Fred S. Cone.

The local police had obtained a description of the man from a young man on Ninth street, and in searching for him across the bay on Saturday discovered that he had just been arrested on suspicion by Detective Bonner.

When arrested Lowrie had on his person $107 in cash, also a lady's gold chain and a gentleman's chain stolen from the Fritsche residence. He had pointed up the gold watches and sold the gold. After being released, he was taken to San Diego and stood trial on an old burglary charge. He was acquitted, when he lost no time, commencing operations in this city.

BODY WASHED ASHORE.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—The body of a well-dressed man was washed up by the tide waters and discovered yesterday morning about 8 o'clock near the beach on the south shore of Bay Farm Island by Frank Miranda Jr., an Alameda boy, who notified the Coroner. The remains were brought to the public morgue, where an inquest will be held.

The deceased was a man about 45 years of age, weighing about 150 pounds, and from the appearance of his hands it was probable he was a seafaring man. The body had not been in the water for much over 24 hours.

The local Coroner's office has the following description of the body, with the articles found on it: Weight, about 150 pounds; sandy mustache and bald, with hair long at sides of head; no outward marks of violence, and remains had been in the water but a few days. Silver watch of French or Swiss make, gold chain, two gold studs, goldstone; white shirt with blue stripes; black silk tie with gold horse-shoe pin; laundry mark on shirt, 2057; one red silk handkerchief and one blue polka-dot handkerchief, 75 cents in silver; $10 gold piece in leather purse; one knife, with blades and corkers; one large key, two small padlock keys; black sack coat and vest; black striped trousers; age about 45 years; watch had stopped at 3:30.

CAPTAIN FOARD DEAD.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—Captain Lorenz Foard, a pioneer steamship owner and ship chandler of San Francisco, died yesterday morning at the family residence, 1805 Pacific avenue, after having been seriously ill for a fortnight. He was well known and popular among the building and seafaring men of this Coast.

Deceased was born in Denmark in 1839, and came to California in 1866. He was first engaged as foreman of the Cousin Drydock at North Beach, and subsequently was superintendent of construction of the old Hunter's Point Drydock. In 1872 he started a ship chandlery business at 7 and 9 Stuart street, across the bay, later being located at Nos. 8 and 10 Market street, and in 1902 he consolidated with Lewis, Anderson & Company, of 26 East street, under the firm name of Lewis, Anderson, Foard & Company, with branches in Portland, Astoria and Seattle.

Deceased was interested in many coasting vessels. He was a member of long standing of the Master Mariners' Association, and of Concordia Lodge of Odd Fellows of San Francisco. He was a brother of Martin Foard of Astoria and of the Foard family of Denmark. He was the father of Mrs. W. C. Logan of Astoria, Mrs. C. E. Bain, Julia, Karl, Meta and Rudolph Foard of this city. The funeral will be held from the family residence, at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

TROWN FROM HORSE.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—Harry Deems, the 17-year-old son of Mrs. Deems of Eucal Avenue beyond High street, was thrown from a horse yesterday morning about 9 o'clock on San Jose avenue near Park avenue and had his skull fractured, receiving injuries which will probably prove fatal. At the time he was exercising an animal owned by T. H. Speddy of Cedar street.

The horse, it is supposed, shied at some object, throwing young Deems to the pavement, where he lay unconscious for some time. He was discovered about 9:15 o'clock by carmen of the San Jose avenue trolley line, who came to his assistance. They found the unfortunate young lying in a pool of blood, and while a number of citizens were standing about him none had rendered the victim of the accident any assistance.

Motorman Horst, with the assistance of the car conductor, put the lad on board the car, when they backed to the Alameda Sanitarium. Young Deems was taken into the hospital and received medical attention from Dr. Pond and other physicians.

JUDGE HUNT INJURED.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—Judge A. B. Hunt, Registrar of the Land Office, received severe injuries about 5:30 p. m. on Saturday when the ferry in San Francisco, when he fell under a team of horses and was trampled upon.

Judge Hunt was on his way to this city, and came to the foot of Market street on a Sutter street car. He was late in alighting from the car, when he was struck by its hoofs, being about to attach them to the other end. In some manner Hunt stepped off in front of the horses and struck one of them with his cane. The animal reared, and the Judge fell and was struck by its hoofs, being badly bruised. He was enabled to reach his home, on Grand street, in this city.

H. C. WARD BURNED.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—Harold C. Ward of Paru street, who was a candidate for School Director at the last city election, met with a painful mishap Saturday afternoon at the metalurgical works conducted by his father and himself on Stevenson street, San Francisco. In some manner an assay furnace blew out, and the flames struck Mr. Ward full in the face. His hair, eyebrows and eyelashes were singed, and his face severely, although not seriously, burned.

F. M. Shay was second, time 12 minutes. E. Eaddy came in third, time 12:12. Adolf Shander was fourth, with time, 13 minutes. Fred Ayer will represent the senior crew in the rowing events.

A SMALL BLAZE.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—There was a "still" alarm about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a minor blaze in the building at the corner of Third street and Railroad avenue, occupied by Pete Dellasanta's restaurant. Sparks had apparently set fire to the front of the building. The Webb avenue chemical responded and extinguished the fire within a few minutes.

MAY DAY FESTIVAL.

ALAMEDA, May 1.—Today the Sunday School of Christ Episcopal Church opened its May Day festival in the spacious grounds owned by Captain R. R. Thompson on High street. Interesting exercises, with games for the children, made the day one of unalloyed enjoyment.

OVER 25,000 IMMIGRANTS

NEW YORK, May 1.—On twenty-two steamships due to arrive in port this week from Great Britain and the Continent is the biggest crowd of immigrants ever scheduled to enter during such a period of time. The horse numbers nearly 25,000. At Ellis Island arrangements have been made for their prompt handling because the detention of any part would at once tax the facilities of the immigration station far beyond its limits.

Figures for the week that has just closed were close to 22,000 showing that the rush has been kept up for a longer period than ever before and is likely that the total immigration for the spring will far exceed any previous year.

SCROFULA 'A Disease We Inherit

The tainted blood of ancestors lays upon the shoulders of innocent offspring untold suffering by transmitting to them, through the blood, that blighting disease, Scrofula; for in nearly every instance the disease can be traced to some family blood trouble, or blood-kin marriage which is contrary to the laws of nature. Swelling, ulcerating glands of the neck, catarrh, weak eyes, sores, abscesses, Scrofula appeared on the head of my little skin eruptions, white swellings, hip disease and other rapidly over her body. The disease next attacked deformities, with a wasting of the system, and we feared she would lose her sight. It was then that we decided to try S. S. S. The vitality, aresome of the ways medicine at once made a speed, and completely this miserable disease man-cure. She is now a young lady, and has secret life's itself. The poison had a sign of the disease to return.

transmitted through the 150 S. 5th St., Salina, Kan. Mrs. R. BERRY. blood pollutes and weakens that health-sustaining fluid and in place of its nutritive qualities fills the circulation with scrofulous matter and tubercular deposits, often resulting in consumption. A disease which has been in the family blood for generations, perhaps, or at least since the birth of the sufferer, requires constitutional treatment. S. S. S. is the remedy best fitted for it. It cleanses the blood of all scrofulous and tubercular poisons, makes it rich and pure and under the tonic effects of this great blood medicine the general health improves, the symptoms all pass away, there is a sure return to health, the disease is cured permanently and its sterility is protected. ## AUTO SERVICE GOLDEN WEDDING PLANNED OBSERVED

HAYWARDS YOUNG MEN MAY ESTABLISH SERVICE BETWEEN TOWN AND DEPOT.

HAYWARDS, May 1.—An automobile service between the town and the depot is being planned by M. Welsh and J. Patterson. The young men are in correspondence with the officials of the Southern Pacific and are in hopes that their scheme may be carried out in the near future.

It is the intention to have large passenger automobiles meet every train and carry travelers to their homes and hotels direct. At present there is a horse car line on the proposed route, but its service is unsatisfactory for a number of reasons.

If the automobile scheme goes through, arrangements to carry parties on excursions to various points of interest in the valley will be made soon after. A central station equipped with a telephone will be an adjunct.

The young men are in earnest and have bought a large auto-car which is ready for shipment as soon as ordered.

ARRANGE PICNIC.

Instead of giving a reception to the three lower classes in the High School, the graduates have decided to have a picnic and dance in some one of the groves hereabout. A committee has been appointed to find a suitable place for the entertainment and report at a meeting soon to be called of the senior class. On the committee are Henry Eggert, Nelda Oakes, Irving Watson, Helen Jackson, Emeline Parsons, Frank Mitchell, Jeanette Gray, Anna Langsam.

A course of lectures on topics of interest is going on at the High School. Last week Professor R. H. Krantz from Heidelberg gave a very entertaining talk on "The Relation of the Mind to the Body." There was a flattering attendance. He is to lecture again this week on Tuesday evening.

NEWS NOTES.

Drs. Torney and Reynolds went to San Leandro Saturday morning and performed a delicate operation on Dr. Pratt of that place. His leg had to be amputated on account of gangrene. He had the other leg cut off four years ago for the same reason. The operation was apparently successful and the patient is resting well.

A thorough renovation has been given the mansion on the Fischer property by its new owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Oswill. All the latest improvements have been added to the old Spanish house erected forty years ago by C. T. Ward.

Doie Brothers have the contract for putting on the galvanized iron cornice on the new library building, and are rushing the work. Work is progressing in putting the tiling on the roof and everything looks favorable for the finishing of the job well within the contract time.

For the benefit of her daughter's health, Mrs. Cox and family will soon remove to Auburn.

A GOOD REASON.

Willie had been naughty and his father was going to whip him.

"My son," he said sternly as, switch in hand, he confronted the lad, "do you know why I am going to whip you?"

"Yes, dad," replied the little fellow, "because you're bigger'n I am."

JURY FAILS TO CONVICT ALAMEDA YOUTH.

Eight For Conviction and Four
For Acquittal--Conductor
Tells Story of Assault.

Notwithstanding the eloquent demand of District Attorney Allen for conviction and the damaging testimony against the defendant, a jury disagreed Saturday in the case of Nat Jehu, one of the five Alameda youths, who is accused of brutally beating Oscar Triplett, a conductor on the Hayward electric line. The jury stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal and they were out two hours before it was announced to Justice of the Peace Geary that they could not agree.

During the arguments there was a tilt between Judge Geary and Attorney St. Sure, who promised sensational developments. St. Sure was discussing the Oakland Transit and declared that the corporation was prosecuting the "case to avoid a damage suit."

Judge Allen objected to the line of arguments on the ground that it was outside the evidence. "I am tired of being throttled," shouted St. Sure. "What do you mean?" demanded Judge Geary, menacingly. "This court takes exception to such remarks and—" "I will withdraw the remarks," said St. Sure, quickly. "I am glad you do," said Judge Geary, smilingly, and the incident closed.

After the jury went to press Saturday, Oscar Triplett was placed on the stand. He said that the five men—Nat Jehu, J. D. Jones, Thomas L. Jones, Russell Pariser, and Charles Pratt—boarded his car at San Leandro where they had been engaged in a game of baseball. All but Pariser said for and when he demanded a fare from Pariser the young man refused saying he had already paid it. When the conductor threatened to put Pariser off, he said, all five jumped upon him, breaking his nose and otherwise injuring him.

The first she knew of the trouble was when she saw the five men striking at the conductor. She prudently jumped off the car and fled to safer quarters.

Edwin L. Smith was another passenger. He said a lady ran to the front of the car and said that some men were trying to kill the conductor. The motorist tried to remonstrate and all five jumped him and threw him off the car.

J. H. Foulkes, who lives on the San Leandro road saw the fight, but could not identify the participants.

Dr. L. L. Reagan, who treated Pariser testified that he had treated Jehu at the Receiving Hospital and that the young man had a serious laceration over the left eye.

Mrs. Carrie Galvin of 606 Eighth street said she was on the car with her husband and little girl. She saw the men fighting on the rear platform and ran to the motorist declaring that an effort was being made to kill the conductor.

When she left the conductor was on top of one of the men and the others were on top of the conductor.

W. P. Granzbach, the motorist, was the next witness. As they neared Jones avenue, he said, a lady came to him and said someone was trying to kill the conductor. He took his controller and went to the rear. The men turned upon him and tried to start it and one of the men, he thought Pariser stood over him with a switch in hand and told him if he moved he would be killed. In the melee Granzbach was struck on the mouth and on the jaw.

"I tried to remonstrate with the fighters," said Mike Heidorn, a passenger, and one of them said, "You keep quiet or you'll get your head knocked off."

"Did you mix in the fight at all?" asked Judge St. Sure. "I didn't," replied Heidorn. "I didn't want to get my block knocked off."

The five defendants were called by Judge St. Sure, in turn, and all declared that Triplett started to put Pariser off the car and that they assisted him, said, and Triplett threw him on the floor, when some of them interferred. All were positive that Pariser paid his fare.

A. B. Tarry of 111 Grand street, Alameda, Chief of Police Conrad of Alameda, Justice of the Peace Geary, and D. W. Martin testified that the five were bore good characters in the District City.

BIRTHDAY PRESENT FOR MISS GOLDEN

She Asked For Husband and
Her Request Was Promptly
Granted By Jerry Weiss.

"What shall I give you for a birthday present?" asked Jerry Weiss of Miss Sadie Golden, his fiancée.

"A husband," answered Miss Golden, jokingly, but it did not look like a joke to Jerry, so he took her at her word, despite her mild protests. Although he had known Miss Golden for four years and had been engaged to her for a month, Weiss had no intention of immediate marriage when he went to call upon his fiancée at her home, Twenty-first street and Nineteenth avenue, Saturday. It was her twenty-second birthday, and when she jokingly said she wanted a husband for a present, Jerry lost no time in reaching the Hall of Records, where Cupid Paul Wuthe issued a license. In high spirits, Jerry and his bride-to-be went to the office of Justice of the Peace Geary, whom they induced to postpone the trial of Nat Jehu long enough to perform the ceremony.

With District Attorney Allen and a TRIBUNE reporter for witnesses, Judge Geary pronounced the couple man and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiss will live at 699 Sixth street. The bride is a comely young woman with many accomplishments. Mr. Weiss is a well known and popular saloon man of this city.

The late Isaac L. Requa, president of the Oakland, California Bank of Savings, left at the time of his death a policy in the Mutual Life of New York for $10,000 on which dividend additions had been declared amounting to $7,985. Of these additions $3,247 had been used to offset premiums, leaving a force of $4,738 at the time of his death. The estate therefore received from the Mutual Life, $14,738. The net premiums paid amounted to but $3,432.17.

REDUCE CHURCH BIG ENGINE WILL EXPENSES BE ERECTED

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH TO CUT DOWN COST OF MAIN-TENANCE.

The move in the direction of reducing the expenses of the First Presbyterian Church from $12,000 to $10,000 a year which is about to be inaugurated by the governing board of that county is soon to be emulated by the First Methodist Church of this city.

The cost of conducting the latter congregation, each year, is now between $10,000 and $11,000, and it is desired to reduce the same to about $9,000.

It has not, as yet, been decided where the work of retrenchment will be inaugurated. There is no danger, leading members of the church say, of the number of the members or of the payment of the choir, which it is claimed, is doing good service.

One of the first expenditures on which a cut will be made is that of the lighting bills, and in these, it is thought quite a saving can be effected.

Members say that lights have been left burning all night in the church through the carelessness of people in extinguishing the same after meetings which they may have attended have come to close.

There are other sources of waste, however, and these, it is expected, when properly regulated by the governing board will reduce the cost of the church to about $9,000 a year.

Now you buy a suite of buttons for your dress, in three sizes, all in beautiful accord.

WORKMEN ARE PUTTING IN LARGE STEAM MACHINE AT WEST OAKLAND.

That Oakland is growing in manufacturing industries, as well as in population and other ways, is proved by the fact that the California Sash and Door Factory has been compelled to increase its plant within the last few weeks.

This factory has been cutting 50,000 feet of lumber each day, but an increase of work made the old engine that was used to run the machinery inadequate. It was therefore deemed expedient to install a larger and larger engine and all day long a crowd of the curious have been watching the workmen of Walter Steel & Son, who are erecting the new engine in the factory at Sixteenth and Wood streets.

The new engine, when erected, will furnish 800 horse power. It will weigh seventy-five tons and is one of the largest ever made in the world. The Pacific Coast. It was built in the East and the Steel have the contract for transferring it from the station and erecting it in the factory.

The old engine will be taken to the sawmills of the company in Oregon.

LIFE INSURANCE MAN IN JAIL

TROUBLE OVER COMPANY'S FUNDS REASON FOR HIS ARREST.

NEW YORK, May 1.—B. Scott, formerly superintendent of agencies of the Washington Life Insurance Society, and also the company's agent for Oregon and Washington with headquarters in Portland, is in Ludlow-street Jail. He came here from Philadelphia several days ago and was arrested at an uptown hotel on an order obtained by the company's attorney. Unable to furnish $5000 bail, the former agent was later locked up.

Scott quit the employ of the company last March. Later, it is said, he brought suit in Oregon, claiming that the company owed him many thousands of dollars. The company alleged that he owed it $10,000, and started a suit for that sum. Scott refused to talk about his case.

President Tatlock of the insurance company said the issue with Scott was much involved and admitted that several thousand dollars entered into the affair. The company was reorganized a few months ago, after its affairs had been gone over thoroughly by the State Insurance Department. Most of the old officers resigned and President Tatlock took charge.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—Blair T. Scott, under arrest at New York, suddenly resigned from the employ of the Washington Life Insurance Company about six weeks ago, giving as his reason that the company was seeking to alter its contract with him, and refused to pay him a large sum of money which he claimed was due him. He also stated that pending a settlement he was withholding certain funds of the company. Scott left Portland soon afterward for New York for the purpose, he said, of securing an adjustment of the matter.

STRONG FORCE
GUARDS JEWS

WARSAW, May 1.—Business here is entirely suspended. No tram cars or cabs are moving. The authorities have stopped the telephone service. The streets are crowded but everything was quiet up to noon. Many patrols are on the streets and a strong force is guarding the Jewish quarter.

CENSUS OF CHINAMEN
NEW YORK, May 1.—A census of the Chinamen in this city is being taken by the police. Each precinct commander received orders from Commissioner McAdoo to note every Chinik in the district, and his occupation. However, the order did not cover the quarter known as Chinatown, which is a special police district. No attempt will be made to secure the Chinese names, but a close tabulation will be made, supposedly in connection with the police crusade against vice among the Celestials.
